

CHINESE BANDITS KIDNAP AMERICANS

HARDING NOW AT HELM OF G. O. P. SHIP

A Changed Man, And Taking Initiative In Important Moves, Says Writer

By DAVID LAWRENCE
Copyright, 1923 by The Post Pub. Co.
Washington — Warren G. Harding is a changed man. It may have been the cumulative effect of the grinding tasks of the presidency or it may have been his recognition of the fact that with all kinds of advice, he alone must take the initiative and make decisions
—but there has been a change from the chief executive who placidly, almost timidly, awaited the advice of party leaders in congress before making any important move to the president who, firing under the criticism of a lack of forcefulness, has deliberately set out to be president as his judgment and conscience dictates and not as expedience and individualism in congress would wish.

HARDING TAKES LEAD

Without consulting Secretary Hoover of the pre-lease element, or any of the other members of the cabinet who lean toward the "irreconcilable" side of the argument, Mr. Harding transmitted to the senate the letter of the secretary of state. He didn't consult Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, chairman of the senate foreign relations committee, nor Senator James Watson nor any of the other leaders.
He went ahead on his own judgment of what ought to be done.

Since that event Mr. Harding has shown this independence of mind brought home to him in a friendly though critical spirit by some of those who feel intimate to discuss these matters with him. One man who is said to have to have been aware of some of the passages in Mr. Harding's speech to the editors a few days before the president went to New York remarked to Mr. Harding that he wondered what some of the men in the senate would think about it. At this point, the president revealed his impatience with the idea that as president of the United States, charged with the duty of developing the foreign policy of the United States and recommending treaties and protocols for the senate to approve, he should have to submit each step to the party leaders for their advice not on the treaties themselves but the political expediency thereof.

TIED OF BEING TOLD

"I'm tired of being told I must consult this man and that," is in effect what Mr. Harding is quoted as having remarked. "I told if I do this, I shall be hurt and if I do that, I shall be benefited and so on." On still another occasion, a man who enjoys the confidence of the president, but who occupies a subordinate position in one of the departments asked the president if it were true that he had not consulted with Secretaries Weeks and Denby or Postmaster General Harry New before he made up his mind to commit himself to the world court proposal. "The president replied that it was true and that the first the members of his cabinet knew of it, with the exception of Secretary Hughes, was when the letter to the senate about the world court was given to the press."

STICKING TO PLATFORM

The answer to the foregoing, of course, is that the world court proposal is not simply a department of state affair but affects the Republican party politically. If then the cabinet is to render political advice, the president erred in failing to consult his colleagues. To admit that the world court proposal is a political subject is something Mr. Harding doesn't relish. He has felt and feels that the world court is a political subject. He told the world that at New York. He himself made campaign speeches advocating the world court. In other words, the president had all the political advice he thought necessary—namely to stick to the Republican platform. And he went ahead on that basis and committed himself self further to the fulfillment of those pledges.

Mr. Harding's evolution from a member of the senatorial club to a petition of independence has been two years in the making. He faces a situation in which his renomination depends entirely on the boldness of some of his opponents inside the party. For his part, he is ready to accept the nomination and would be honored with it, but he has made up his mind not to be pulled and pushed in every direction by those who think his nomination depends on doing what they want done, which isn't always what the people as a whole want. Mr. Harding is a changed man—a more aggressive, independent and decisive personality. His job, his surroundings and the individualism of the senate groups have made him so.

Severson Claims Victory For His Revenue Measure

Thinks He Will Receive 17 Votes For His Tax Bill, Enough To Pass Measure—Predicts Defeat For Blaine Plan

Madison—The fate of all tax legislation before the present session hangs in the balance in the senate where the change of a vote or two marks the difference between success and defeat of proposed new revenue laws.
Of the three general income tax bills now pending, the one drafted and sponsored by Governor Blaine, appears to have the least chance of success in its present form, members assert. This situation exists, according to members of the finance committee, in spite of the threat of the governor that he intends to veto large appropriations unless his bill is enacted.

WEEK OF SENSATIONS

The past week in the legislature was one of sensational developments, leading in an indication of the senate attitude toward the governor's bill.
During the present week this important measure is on the calendar for a vote on Thursday, while the Severson income surtax bill is likely to be reported from the finance. The Dahl general income tax bill is expected to be held in reserve for a short time.

A variety of amendments are to be offered to the Blaine income tax bill when it is reached on the senate calendar. Upon the acceptance of the amendments to be offered by Socialist members will determine where there three votes are to be thrown, and probably the fate of the governor's bill.

WHAT SOCIALISTS WANT

They are asking complete repeal of the personal property offset to the income tax, payment of the tax in one installment and a larger proportion of return to the cities. The governor said in his special message to the legislature that to change these features of his bill would mean annihilation.
The largest number of votes that opposition senators will concede the administration is 13 out of 33 for the Blaine bill. This number they say might be increased if the measure is so drastically amended as to change its form.

Senator Severson, author of the income surtax bill pending in the finance committee, says that he will probably have 17 votes for his bill when a roll call is taken. This is a majority and would practically mean enactment of the proposal if the claims materialize.

DAHL AND SEVERSON AGREE

According to an agreement between Senator Severson and Speaker Dahl, the Dahl general income tax bill is to remain in the finance committee until action on the Severson bill.
Legislators are wondering how far the governor intends to carry his threatened veto of appropriation bills should the legislature fail to enact his tax bill. Members of the finance committee express little concern over the matter, asserting that should he veto the bills granting funds to the university and normal schools, he will be one to bear the responsibility. In the committee meeting last Friday, some of the senators expressed resentment at the threat which failed to change any votes for the governor's tax bill.

The governor has been calling senators to his office during the past week to urge them to support his bill.
Among the conservative Republicans called into conference were Senators Henry C. Roethlisberger and Senator Eugene Clark. Senator J. L. Hirsch represented the Socialists in another conference.

WATERBOY, NOW PRESIDENT, SERVES ROAD 52 YEARS

By Associated Press
Green Bay, Wis.—Fifty-two years in the harness and still going strong, is the record that was marked off last night by Frank R. Seymour, general manager of the Green Bay and Western railroad when he sat down at his office desk Monday morning.
Mr. Seymour, who is probably the oldest railroad executive in point of service in the midwest, began his career as a water boy, working his way upward, until now he is the vic-tual head of the Green Bay and Western railroad. He entered the employ of the local road May 7, 1871, and witnessed the completion of the first stretch of track.

THIEVES ABANDON CAR AND $25,000 LIQUORS

By Associated Press
Janesville—A truck, stalled in the road near Geneva, Junction, Sunday night, abandoned by its drivers, was found to contain $25,000 worth of liquors stolen from the summer home of Frank Rehm, Chicago, at Lake Geneva.

GRAIN EXPORT INCREASES

Washington—Exports of grain from the United States during the last week were 4,601,000 bushels, compared to 4,083,000 the week before.

CHIEF WITNESS IN PEN PROBE DIES SUDDENLY

Former Jailer Of Florida Convict Camp Succumbs On Way To Grand Jury

By Associated Press
Tallahassee, Fla.—Death of Jerry Poppell, chief witness for the prosecution in a penance case against two Leon-co officials that came as a result of an investigation into the demise of Martin Tabert, prisoner in a private camp, held the attention of authorities Monday. Poppell, formerly a jailer at Tallahassee, died at Quincy, Fla.
Saturday night as he was enroute to Pensacola to testify before a federal grand jury.

Although Mrs. Poppell, who was with her husband, said her husband died during a lucid moment preceding his death, had muttered he had been poisoned, the attending physician said
the former jailer died of apoplexy.
Poppell had been suffering from a mental ailment for several months.

ADMITTED HE DRANK

While appearing before a legislative committee investigating Tabert's death, Poppell admitted his habitual drinking of liquor and in that condition mentioned the names of Sheriff Jones and Judge Willis. Poppell testified the sheriff and judge conspired to profit in the arrest and conviction of vagrants, who when sentenced were put to work in the convict camps. Sheriff Jones told the committee he received $20 for each man sent there.

STRAP LIQUOR CRAZED MAN IN CELL AT JAIL

Fred Burnett Threatens Self And Others At Calabe Farm
—Won't "Squel"

The most violent case of "moonshine" drunkenness that ever has been encountered by county authorities is that of a man now recuperating in the county jail. Human lives were endangered and the infuriated victim would have destroyed himself had it not been for the vigilance of Sheriff Otto H. Zuehlke.

Sheriff Zuehlke received a summons
Sunday evening to the home of George Calabe, Grand "chute" farmer, where his hired man, Fred Burnett, was threatening his employer great bodily harm. After a struggle with the "moonstruck" man, the sheriff succeeded in placing him in handcuffs and took him to the jail. In the county jail he tried to commit suicide by running his head into the wall. It was necessary to place the man into a straight jacket.

In municipal court Monday morning he was questioned by Judge A. M.
Spencer as to where he got the "polson." Not being able apparently to remember, the judge ordered Burnett back to the jail to refresh his memory.

E. W. MILLER, U. S. ATTORNEY, IS HURT

By Associated Press
Milwaukee — Edward W. Miller,
United States district attorney, suffered a possible skull fracture in an elevator accident at the Federal building Monday.

Mr. Miller was taken to emergency hospital, after having been given first aid in the office of Postmaster Peter P. Finke.

Mr. Miller was getting into an elevator, and had one foot on it, when the elevator started upward. He was thrown backward his head hitting the tile floor with considerable force.

The elevator operator started lowering the elevator not noticing that Mr. Miller's legs were hanging over the shaft. He stopped it when the floor of the elevator was not more than six inches above Mr. Miller's legs.

Mr. Miller assumed office about two months ago, succeeding H. A. Sawyer, resigned. His home is in Marquette.

PUTS ON BEST CLOTHES THEN KILLS HIMSELF

By Associated Press
Iron Mountain, Mich.—After dressing himself in his best clothes, spreading a blanket on the floor of his cabin with a mackinaw for a pillow and writing some notes to two of his close friends, requesting them to divide his money equally between themselves, Joseph Pugh, 35, woodsman, shot himself through the heart with a rifle in his shack in the woods in Delta co.,

Clean-Up Proclamation

Thousands of visitors to Appleton every year tell us that we have one of the cleanest and most beautiful cities in the United States. Appleton is proud of this distinction and we want to maintain our reputation for cleanliness.

The condition is possible only with the cooperation of every person in Appleton. If any of us neglect our yards, permit rubbish to gather in unsightly piles or fail to take care of our own premises it detracts from the beauty of Appleton as a whole.

The common council of Appleton, by resolution has provided that city employees, beginning with May 16, shall remove rubbish that is placed in containers at street curbs convenient for picking up. The period of clean-up was designated from May 1 to May 15.

Now, I, Henry Reuter, as mayor of Appleton, call upon the people of our city to cooperate in maintaining Appleton's reputation as a clean and beautiful city by cleaning up their premises, removing rubbish and doing everything else that will assist in beautifying the community so that we may have increasing pride in the city in which we live.

HENRY REUTER, Mayor

Mayor Asks People To Clean City

"Help maintain Appleton's reputation as one of the cleanest and most beautiful cities in the United States" Mayor Henry Reuter urged Monday in a proclamation calling on Appleton people to clean up their premises during the clean-up period from May 1 to May 15. One unclean yard detracts from the beauty of Appleton as a whole, the mayor said.

Preparations are being made by the street department for removing rubbish which householders place in containers on the street curbs. The pickup period will begin May 16 and it probably will require several days to complete the work. In the meantime Appleton people are urged to put their premises in the best possible condition for the summer.

SUBPENA 100 TO STUDENT PROBE

Freshmen Who Led Class Rush
Is Located By Ohio
Police

By Associated Press
Chicago — One hundred subpoenas have been issued for students and officials of Northwestern university and officials of Evanston, the north shore home of the institution, to appear before the grand jury that Monday starts an investigation into the death of Leighton Mount, Northwestern freshman, whose skeleton was found underneath a lake front pier about 18 months after he disappeared during, or subsequent to a class rush between freshmen and sophomores.

Robert C. Crowe, state's attorney returned from his vacation to aid the grand jury. The grand jury will call the first group of student witnesses before it Monday afternoon. State's Attorney Crowe issued a statement indicating that, if necessary he "would go through every fraternity and class group of students, and by process of elimination, find out who has guilty knowledge of the killing."

Uncle Joe Cannon Gives Advice On 87th Birthday

Danville, Ill. — "Uncle Joe" Cannon who served in congress through two generations with a record and display of personality that has made his name and black eagle as well known to school boys as to politicians Monday was celebrating his eighty-seventh birthday and his homecoming from his final session of congress.

Joseph Gurney Cannon for years an speaker of the Republican party as speaker of the house, is going to rest for the remainder of his life. He is going to settle down in Danville, Ill., and let a younger man take his place in politics. Since 1873, with the exception of two terms, "Uncle Joe" has gone to congress. He became, before his hair turned gray, the dominant leader of the house.

All Danville. Persons of State and national importance, including Secretary of the Navy Denby, Secretary of Labor Davis, Governor Small, Senator McCormick of Illinois, Gov. Mc-Cray and Senator Watson of Indiana are going to help "Uncle Joe" celebrate both his birthday and his political retirement in a just and fitting manner.

To the people who gathered here and to all the people of America Uncle Joe sends the following greeting and message:

"Friends, this demonstration of your affection is in itself compensation for my half century of public service. The extent of my gratitude cannot be weighed or measured. To all, my heart goes out in thankfulness.
"It is good to have lived and worked with you. You are my neighbors.
You are the people I have served in congress through two generations.
You are the people with whom I intend to pass the remainder of my days.
"To you, to all the people of America, from my observance of half a century, I bring this message: 'Have faith, often you will feel that you defect a great uneasiness, an unrest, a threatening undercurrent in this government. This is neither new nor unusual. I have learned that America will rise to meet her problems. I have learned that good will triumphs over evil.
"Have faith in the government of your fathers.
"Show your faith by works to support that Government.
"Have faith that right will prevail."

U. S. Break With China Is Feared

By Associated Press

Washington — A situation, apparently regarded as seriously menacing good relations between the United States and the Peking government in China was described Monday by American Minister Schurman in the first official report to reach the state department regarding the capture of American citizens by bandits near the Shantung border.

The American minister is understood already to have made official representations on his own responsibility and it is said that he will be instructed by the government here to pursue the most vigorous course to secure the release of the prisoners un-harm.

GOT DIRECT INFORMATION

The report was prepared by Mr.
Schurman on the basis of information furnished him by an American citizen who was on the spot when the bandits attacked the tourist train on which many Americans were riding.
It was indicated that so far as known none of those taken prisoner had been harm and the minister apparently was hopeful that they all would be released.

Minister Schurman's report was dated midnight, May 6, at Tsinan Fu and described the situation as "very serious" a paraphrase made public by the department said.
"An express train which left Saturday morning from Shanghai was held up about 2 A. M. Sunday by bandits near Linchen, in the province of Shantung.
"Out of 26 foreigners 19 were held captive, including A. M. Powell of the Weekly Review.
"An Englishman killed
A. M. Rothman, a British subject, was killed.
"The bandits are being pursued by a small force."
"Situation serious. There is little information received so far. I've telegraphed Shanghai to inquire if there were other Americans on train."
Information received from an American command on the scene.
Major Robert A. Allen, mentioned in the dispatches is an officer in the medical corps who was born in Iowa, Ill., and before entering the service was practicing physician at Tacoma, Wash.
He is a graduate of Beloit college and Northwestern university.

Miss Edith Schonberg, Naugatuck, Conn., holds a passport and may be the Miss Schonberg in press dispatches.

WILL DEMAND RESTITUTION

Should any American lose his life, the state department is prepared to make vigorous demands on the Peking authorities for restitution. Not only suitable apologies be required but indemnities must be paid those responsible must be punished if good relations between the two governments are to continue. The incident is regarded as more serious in view of the fact that it comes during negotiations for a settlement of a controversy over an attack on another American, Charles Colman, who was killed last fall by Chinese soldiers. For this the Chinese government already made apologies and has indicated its willingness to pay indemnity but it is regarded as likely that the negotiations will be halted until the Chinese authorities have shown a willingness to make adequate amends for the Shantung banditry.

RECOVER 14 CARS FROM AUTO RING

Racine—The four men arrested by Milwaukee and Racine detectives as alleged members of an automobile thief ring, operating in the two cities for more than three months, were arraigned Monday before Guy A. Benson, court commissioner of Racine.

Ray Caesar, charged with the larceny of an automobile owned by Arthur Williams, Racine, waived preliminary examination and was bound over to Municipal court under $2,000 bond which he was unable to give.

Richard Horlick, charged with the larceny of an automobile owned by Charles O'Diem obtained an adjournment to May 10. He went to jail in default of $1,000 bail.

He-man Meissner, charged with receiving stolen goods, an automobile owned by Peter J. Rucine, obtained an adjournment to May 10.
He went to jail by default of $2,000
bail.

H. Ellstrom, garage owner, charged with aiding in concealing and disposing of stolen goods, obtained an adjournment to May 10. He gave $1,000 bail.

The total of recovered cars is now 14 of which three are said to be owned by Milwaukeeans, two by Kenoshaans, one a Minneapolis car and eight from Racine.

ELECT FORUM OFFICERS AT MEETING TOMORROW

The nominating committee of the Peoples Forum will meet at 2:30 Tuesday afternoon at the common council chambers to nominate and elect officers for the coming year. Plans of the forum will then be formulated by the committees which they will appoint.

ONE REPORTED SLAIN AS BAND DERAILS TRAIN

Estimated 115, Including Six Women Were Captured

Shanghai—One American was killed by the bandits who held up the Shanghai-Peking express train near the Shantung border and carried off the 150 passengers early Sunday, according to a message from Lincheng, but all the women captives, including Miss Lucy Aldrich, sister-in-law of John D.
Rockefeller, Jr., have been released.

The men still held, are said to be in grave danger. The message said the bandits had notified the authorities that all the men among the foreign captives would be killed unless the troops were withdrawn.

Miss McFadden and Miss Corall were released with Miss Aldrich, the report added.

TROOPS CHASING GANG

Troops were pressing the bandits on both sides and firing at last advices.
The kidnapping plot is believed to have originated in Shanghai when it became known that a large party was leaving to attend the ceremony incident to the completion of the Kung-kupa dyke at Tsinan.

Robert Scripps, the American newspaper publisher, is reported among the captives taken by the train bandits operating on the Shantung border.
Others include Major Finger of the American army and his two sons, Mrs.
Finger escaped.

AMERICANS ARE NAMED

London—A Reuter's dispatch from Shanghai says that the following Americans were on the train held up by the Chinese bandits near the Canton Shantung border.
A. L. Zimmerman, V. Hamovitch,
L. Friedmann, J. A. Hendley, L. Solomon, Mr. and Mrs. P. P. Jones and two children, J. P. Powell, Major Allen with Mrs. Allen and child, Miss L. T.
Aldrich, Miss McFadden, Miss Schon-berg, Messers F. and E. Elias and E.
Gemberger.

TELL OF CAPTURE

Tientsin—A relief train arrived here Monday morning with a party of foreigners who escaped when the Shanghai-Peking express train was held up Sunday by a large force of bandits at Lincheng. In the party were Mrs.
Robert Allen and Mrs. Finger and the latter's younger son.

The women stated that their husbands, who are majors in the American army and the Fingers elder son were kidnapped.
The Americans told a graphic tale of their experiences. The bandits told them that if they did not surrender
it was death and they were killed.
It was denied and swarmed about it, smashing the windows when it was brought to a standstill. Then they entered the cars and robbed the passengers of valuables, visiting some of the coaches three times to be sure of missing nothing.

FOREIGNER IS KILLED

One foreigner was killed but his identity was not known to the party arriving here. It was nearly two hours after the train had been stopped that a warning whistle was blown and the bandits decamped with their captives. A few of the foreigners escaped by hiding in the long grass but more than twenty of them were carried off, including six women. Mrs.
Allen and Mrs. Finger were left behind when it was found they were unable to keep up with the fast pace set by the bandits. Major Finger and his wife kept in touch for a time by whistling to each other, but the voice of the major who was ahead grew fainter and finally ceased and his wife returned to the train with her younger son.

WALK OVER GLASS

It is estimated that about 115 passengers were kidnapped, most of them in their night attire and without their baggage. They were forced to walk barefoot on the broken glass and to climb over the rails and were hustled by their brutal guards over the rough country as the bandits fled in fear of pursuit.

Soldiers arrived at the scene soon after the departure of the raiding party and the government ordered the Tachuan military governors of the neighboring provinces immediately to take up the pursuit.

A complete list of the kidnapped foreigners is not available here, but an American broker named Hunter, an Italian lawyer, Musso and a number of English women are believed to be among them.

PITCHED BALL STRIKES WAUSAU YOUTH, DIES

Wausau—Charles Swan, 11, is dead as the result of being struck in the face by a pitched ball in a game in a city park. A ball thrown by Willie Hoppe was misjudged striking the boy in the mouth and rupturing a blood vessel near the base of the skull. The boy was rushed to a hospital but died before reaching there.

CAR STOLEN IN CHICAGO WRECKED NEAR KAUKAUNA

Youthful Driver Tried To Trade Wheel And Tire For Gasoline

A stolen automobile was wrecked by its driver at McCarty's crossing, on Highway 15, between Kaukauna and Green Bay, Friday morning but police in two cities thus far have been unable to snare the thief. The car was found early Friday by a farmer who took part of the debris into his yard and reported the accident to the police at Kaukauna. A box of cartridges was found in the machine.

Investigation showed that the car was stolen about ten days ago from Lucius Teter, 5637 Woodlawn-ave., Chicago. It is now in a Green Bay garage where it has been identified by a representative of the owner who has ordered it repaired.

Police in Green Bay have learned that a young man was in Green Bay with the machine last Thursday. He attempted to trade spare tires and wheel for five gallons of gasoline but the garage man with whom he negotiated would not take the wheel and referred him to another garage. He did not visit the other shop, however. No trace of him has been found since.

THE PEOPLE'S AID

(The Post-Crescent herewith calls attention to the special service offered its readers through the People's Aid column. It desires to be of service in helping solve special problems vexing the public. Any matters pertaining to public service which are not satisfactory may be aired in this column.

From time to time Appleton residents have availed themselves of this service and have profited by it.)

City water has had a bad taste for the last few days. Can you tell me what causes this bad taste and when the condition will be remedied?

Answer: The bad taste in the city water late last week was due to micro-organisms, namely Synura and Asterionella. These organisms occur annually when the ice goes out. They lodge underneath the ice, multiply and come down the river when the breaking of the ice frees them. We had been looking for them, but they came unexpectedly at 9 o'clock Thursday evening before we had a chance to check them. That is how the unpalatable water got into the mains. But the trouble has now been remedied through chemical treatment. But the taste may still exist for a few days in some extremities of mains until sufficient water has been drawn through to remove it.

A. J. HALL, Water Department Chemist.

WILL REPORT ON NEW SCOUT CAMP LOCATION

New camping grounds will be provided for the boy scouts this season. At a meeting of the Fox River Valley Scout council at Kaukauna recently a committee was appointed to decide on a location and will report at the next meeting at Neenah Monday, May 28.

The boys have been going to Wauwau for several years and are anxious to camp in a primitive country where there is more opportunity for woodcraft.

Arbutus Plentiful That arbutus is plentiful in the Sturgeon Bay region is the news which several Appleton seekers of the "northern beauties" brought back after trips on Saturday and Sunday. Among the Appleton people who went for flowers were the Misses Hester, Harper and Ethel Carter.

Miss Eleanor Hewitt of Oshkosh was a guest of Appleton friends Sunday.

H. S. Pupils Tax Brains In Terman Tests To Show Extent Of Their Ability

Classification Of Students For Coming Year According To Intelligence Is Accomplished By Scientific Method.

In order to classify the students who will return to Appleton high school next year in accordance with their ability, Terman group tests were given to the freshmen, sophomore and junior classes during the last week. These tests are based on mental ability in ten different lines and the grade made by the students is indicative of what branches of study each child finds difficult or easy.

The tests were given in the session rooms and were marked by the session room teachers. Each student will be told what his individual score was in the test. There is a possibility for great divergence in ability as shown by these tests depending on the fund of general information which the student has been able to acquire. An allowance is made for the different amount of information which the normal student will be able to acquire in each grade from the seventh through high school; that is, from the seventh to the twelfth grade.

The first test is one on information which gives a list of words only one of which is possible in the fact which is stated. The next one is known as a "best answer" test in which three reasons for a fact are given but one is the best of the three. The word meaning test gives a list of words and the student is asked to determine whether or not the given words mean the same or opposite. The logical selection test asks the student to pick out from a list of possible qualities of an object, the two which it always has. The fifth one is an arithmetic test of graduated difficulty, but which includes only simple examples in the fundamental arithmetical processes.

In the sentence meaning test, the student is asked to ascertain whether the statement made is correct. The answer in each case is either yes or no. A little bit more difficult is the test on analogies in which the student is asked to find the word in a list which is the same relation to the given term as two other given terms are. There is considerable fun in answering the mixed sentence test in which the student is given a sentence with the words all mixed up and he is asked to determine whether it is true. For instance, the first sentence is "Countries several produced wheat in is" which the student must transpose to read "Wheat is produced in several countries" and then he must determine whether this is true or false.

A list of objects is given in the classification test, one of which does not come in the same class as the others. The student is then asked to cross out the word which is a misfit in the group. The last test includes a number series exercise.

RICH INDIAN

JACKSON BARNETT Muskogee, Okla.—Richest Indian in the world.

Jackson Barnett, "restricted Indian" of the Creek tribe, has an annual income of $60,000 from property with valuable oil rights. Because of this wealthy redskin's status as a "restricted Indian," his property and its income are under the guardianship of the government.

Uncle Sam is defending Jackson in a suit brought by Carl J. O'Hornett, appointed guardian by Oklahoma county, Okla., but never able to get control of the property.

Barnett will receive a refund of a quarter of a million dollars from the government, following a recent ruling by the Internal Revenue Department that "restricted Indians" were exempt under income tax laws.

22 STREET CLEANERS BEGIN SEASON'S WORK

Monday morning marked the opening of the street sweeping season. Twenty-two "white wing" men, who have rested during the winter, started work. Some of these men have been in the employ of the street department for years. Men who are too old to attack other work are herewith provided with light work. The season is for about six months.

FISHERMEN FIND FORESTS ABLAZE

Dry Weather Means Caution For Campers And Cigaret Smokers

Forest fires are burning in the vicinity of Bland according to W. H. Hackleman, Gordon Fish and Carl Glaser who returned from there Sunday night, where they spent the morning hours trout fishing in the Embarrass river. They caught 35 trout measuring from 9 to 12 inches in length. The fire in the swamps was burning into the ground to a depth of more than a foot.

That the north woods of Wisconsin are endangered by forest fires on account of the long dry season, was made clear to a group of Appleton fishermen who went to Mountain after trout Saturday. About two miles from Mountain cutover land had caught fire and the flames spread with great rapidity. The fishermen might have been trapped had they not detected in time. Although the fishermen knew nothing of the cause of the fire, they emphasize upon all fellow campers to take extreme care to put out campfires.

Named Locktender Ripley Richards of Kaukauna has been appointed locktender at DePere to succeed Locktender Paige. He is 22 years old, married, and the son of Warren Richards, captain of the government boat Fox.

Dizzy Spells

Are Usually Due to Constipation

When you are constipated, not enough of Nature's lubricating liquid is produced in the bowel to keep the food waste soft and moving. Doctor's prescribe Nujol because it acts like this natural lubricant and thus secures regular bowel movements by Nature's own method—lubrication.

Nujol is a lubricant—not a medicine or laxative—so cannot gripe. Try it today.

STONES HURLED AT TRAIN; SEEK ARRESTS

Special agents of the Chicago & Northwestern railroad are seeking to learn the identity of persons who hurled stones at passenger train No. 209 which passed through Appleton Saturday night. The stones were hurled near McCarty's crossing, between Kaukauna and Green Bay. Windows were broken in three coaches and a parlor car. Trainmen report that stones were thrown at the same train at the same place Saturday morning when it was bound for Chicago.

A special agent of the railroad is working on the case and it is reported at the Green Bay headquarters of the railroad that arrests are expected soon.

Dance at Hotel Appleton, Wednesday evening.

HEALTH BEGINS AT HOME
For years the United States of America has turned a hearing ear and a helping hand and a tender heart to the plight of the children of the war-torn and famine-ridden lands of Europe. It has sent food to build up their small bodies, skeleton-thin, or swollen with hunger. It has sent warm clothing to protect these helpless ones from the rigors of winter. It has sent trained relief workers to hear in person to these little ones the best skill and love of our nation. All through Europe the United States has established itself as the children's friend.
This is as it should be, nor is there any adequate reason why our country should depart from the precedent it has established. Humanity knows no boundaries. Suffering childhood may rightly claim sheltering parent-care from all the world.

But the United States of America must not, in remembering the children of other countries, forget its own. Child health, like charity, should begin at home. It is a significant fact that the American Relief administration, which during the last eight years has cared for more than 15,000,000 children of Europe, has now decided to put its full strength into the work for American children under the auspices of the newly organized American Child Health association. It is a matter of no light import that Herbert Hoover, secretary of our department of commerce and known throughout the world as a leading organizer of child relief, has considered the need here in the United States great enough to demand the new organization of which he will be president. It is a thing to engage the public attention that two such organizations as the American Child Hygiene association and the Child Health organization of America merge to form this new American Child Health association, in order to strengthen the effort for the advancement of child health in the country.

That it is a critical situation of utmost concern is proved by a few of the facts which confront the country. There are slightly more than 22,000,000 school children in the United States. Of these children, millions, it is estimated from reliable studies, are so far below average weight as it demand searching inquiry as to the cause and many are suffering from serious defects.

Nor is this all. Statistics show that 200,000 of the 2,500,000 babies born in the United States every year die before they are a year old. They show a maternal mortality rate of over seven deaths in childbirth for every thousand live births, as against less than three deaths per thousand in Italy, Norway and Sweden. More than half these deaths of both mothers and babies could be prevented by skillful and intelligent care. The percentage of malnutrition and physical defects in our schools could be reduced to an inconsiderable minimum.

It is the children of our own land who are now crying out to us for aid. Their need is not a startling crisis of war or famine, but none the less great and none the less real. The nation's whole future is affected unless their health is assured.

THE BOYCOTT ON SUGAR
Human nature is on trial in the boycott, which has been started in many cities in different parts of the land, on sugar.

gar. Hundreds of women, perhaps hundreds of thousands, are determined not to buy sugar until the price is reduced. Unquestionably, the price will decline if enough families do without sugar. Unquestionably, too, the price will advance quickly if all buy as soon as prices drop. It will be an exceptionally interesting exemplification of the relationship between demand and supply.

Still another feature enters into the boycott. This is the willingness of a large number of persons to do without sugar. Provided enough people are prepared to deny themselves sugar, the boycott will be effective; otherwise, demand will not be abated, and prices will remain high.

A certain quantity of sugar is necessary for health, and people could get along on it. But will they! They could if they made up their minds to do so, and did without sugar for a few days, which would be long enough to neutralize the sugar habit.

We shall watch developments, not so much to see prices decline, although this result would be welcome, but to study human nature. Our guess is that the majority of the people will prove that they have sweet toothes.

POLITICAL READJUSTMENT IN EUROPE

France has hit on the most practical plan for settling the great problems which vex Europe. France has arrested Krupp von Bohlen, head of the Krupp works. She should imprison, or isolate, all of the German industrialists.

Obstructionists to accord and prosperity in Europe are the profiteers of Germany, who are taking advantage of existing conditions to benefit themselves and fatten their pocketbooks. Patriotism means full a plenty for themselves.

France is spending money, rather, wasting it, in the Ruhr. Germany is allowing its people to be impoverished by unscrupulous industrialists. With the industrialists where they cannot conspire for selfish gain, it should not be long until France and Germany could reach an agreement.

AUTO ACCIDENTS "PSYCHOLOGICAL"

Mary Noel Arrowsmith, of Chicago, assistant secretary of the educational section of the National Safety Council, deduces that the killing of 76,000 persons and maiming of 2,000 yearly, by automobiles, is "largely psychological." Please do not smile, for the lady says the truth.

We are too temperamental, too nervous, and one of our conspicuous traits is to be hurried. We like to do something, whether we are accomplishing something or are just going through motions. We hasten across the street, drive fast, act spontaneously. Death, accident and mistakes are "largely psychological" as Miss Arrowsmith says. We need a trifle more of mental reserve and temperamental calm.

THE RETALIATORY TARIFF

There are two means of obtaining a scientific tariff. One is by the direct plan of allowing the tariff commission to raise and lower duties in response to commercial changes in the international ebb and flow of trade. The other is to force other nations to construct retaliatory tariffs, the result of which ultimately is general establishment of reciprocal tariffs, a scientific tariff by another name.

Great Britain has enacted, in lieu of a tariff, a "merchandise marks bill." The measure requires that agricultural and certain imports shall be marked so as to indicate the place of origin. It will be of no consequence, as it does not take human nature into account. The public does not purchase goods according to patriotism, but by inducements of price.

Mr. Bonar Law, the British premier, says the people are not ready for protection. This is an implication that free trade Great Britain is contemplating the framing of a retaliatory tariff in the form of a preferential tariff.

WHAT'S IN A KISS
A reader is worried about the approaching visit of a friend from another place who has cancer of the stomach, but is unaware of the nature of the disease. The friend is a great one for kissing; our correspondent fears she may contract cancer, for the friend would be offended if she declined to kiss.

Gosh, that brings to mind a dear old music teacher who taught three of four generations of children and remembered them all. She had a way of fixing you and—well, honestly, it was a little fancy, some of her pupils simply had to deny themselves the pleasure of paying her a call when they happened to be in her vicinity. So I can sympathize with the correspondent who is in imminent danger of being kissed by her old friend.

Just what is there in an innocent little kiss between friends?

No danger of getting cancer that way, thank fortune. Cancer is not communicable. So our correspondent may rest easily about that.

Duty kisses and formal or ceremonial kissing ought to be limited strictly to the fashion of the ceremonial kiss in France.

It is not only cruel but criminal to kiss a baby about the mouth, for this operation implants in or upon the mouth of the only known strains of bacteria and undoubtedly brings to many a luckless infant serious disease or death.

There can be no question that many cases of so called "colds" are directly caused by kissing. The skill and technique of the bacteriologist can devise no more effective means of conveying the germs of the respiratory infections called "colds" from one person to another than a kiss.

Kissing is a great institution and well worth the risk involved under proper circumstances. But what a tragedy it is to the thoughtless or careless girl who temporarily lays aside her modesty or self respect and submits to the kiss of some young man, say at a party where only "nice" people are present, only to learn a few weeks later that the "nice" young man was diseased. This has happened in many cases on record. Disease is no respecter of caste, contrary to the popular notion it often stalks where the appearance indicates health.

In order to forestall the confirmed kisser without giving offense, I suggest a little lie. Refrain from taking a kiss, mumble something about just getting over a coriza or a sore throat or something and fearing you may still harbor the germs.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Baby, aged 6 months, born with a club foot. Can foot be straightened? What is the correct process?
—Mrs. C. A.
Answer—Yes; the younger the infant when the treatment is commenced the more satisfactory the final result will be. Club foot is a failure in the complete growth or development of the foot. The surgeon overcorrects the position of the foot and applies a light plaster of paris splint to retain it in the overcorrected or partly corrected position. This is changed at intervals and the foot gradually corrected more each time.

Rub Down
What rubdown would you suggest for a boy who participates in athletics? I have used alcohol rub and a rub made by mixing olive oil with wintergreen oil.—F. P.
Answer—A rubbing is sometimes helpful, but it is immaterial what is used, so long as anything that is not itself irritating and will prevent friction. The olive oil, or any other neutral or bland oil, with a little camphor in it, or a little wintergreen, is all right.

Coffee Habit
I drink six cups of coffee and three cups of tea every day. I am inclined to be nervous. I am 21 years old and do office work.—Miss V. A.
Answer—If you were engaged in vigorous open air work or athletics you might get away with all that stimulation and experience no harmful effects. But it seems to me that you are overindulging. An excess of tea or coffee may cause peevish, irritable disposition, or "nervous" tension. Would you eat meat six times a day, or even potato?

Weeks Jealous Of Denby's "Graft" With Reporters

BY HARRY B. HUNT
Washington—The army hasn't declared war on the navy, but a smouldering jealousy on the part of Secretary of War Weeks filled the corridors of the War Department building with the acrid fumes of poison gas the week before the U. S. S. Grant, carrying Weeks and congressional guests, sailed for Alaska. As the explanation goes, it was all about a little matter of publicity.

When Secretary of Navy Denby recently chaperoned an official junket to Panama, Cuba and Porto Rico, all the press associations and many of the larger newspapers petitioned for space for staff correspondents. They saw news in the Denby trip, which included war maneuvers in the Caribbean. About a score of correspondents and cameramen went along.

For the Weeks junket, however, not a press service or newspaper sought space for a staff man. Some gave credentials to other persons who wished to make the trip, to protect them in event of anything big happening, but aside from some accident or event of spot news interest it seemed to be agreed the news in the Weeks trip would be small potatoes and not worth the cost. Anyway, the time to send staff men to Alaska would be with the presidential party, later.

Whereupon, 'tis whispered, Weeks declared that if the services and papers didn't think enough of his junket to send regular staff men, he wouldn't take their specially accredited men.

Finally it was arranged that Weeks' secretary, John Martyn, should broadcast to the world, by army radio, any "big" news developing on the trip. Anybody who wants to listen in, press associations, newspaper or private individual, can get it.

Aunt Alice Robertson is finding the political pie-counter a much more difficult place to serve than the real pie-counter she used to run in her restaurant down in Muskogee, Okla., to listen in, press associations, newspaper or private individual, can get it.

Recognizing Aunt Alice's claims as a G. O. P. lame duck, President Harding the other day designated her as a sort of official "mother" to the girls employed in the Veterans' Bureau. She will have charge of welfare activities and otherwise try to see that the girls are properly cared for.

And now American Legion men are rising up and asking Harding where he gets that "mother" stuff about Aunt Alice.

They point out that, although 69 years of age, she is still Miss Alice Robertson; that never having been a real mother she cannot now acquire either the wisdom or understanding for assumed motherhood, and that she was a bitter and active opponent in Congress to the veterans' demands for adjusted compensation.

By contrast, they urge, a proper selection for the post would have been from among the Gold Star Mothers who sacrificed sons in the war.

Q. Can the copihue be grown in this country? G. L. C.
A. The Department of Agriculture says that the Chilean National flower, copihue cannot be grown successfully in this country except as a greenhouse subject. The plant is a slender climber of very slow growth, and thrives only in rather moist frost-free regions, under acid soil conditions.
Q. How can I obtain distilled water? F. H.
A. The simplest way is to buy artificial ice and melt it.
Q. What is the difference between woolens and worsteds? M. W.
A. These are the two classes of wool materials. Worsteds are made of long fibers, which are combed and arranged in a parallel position. The yarn is well twisted and the cloth has a smooth surface with a clearly defined weave. Serge, tricotone and point twill are worsteds. Woolens are made of shorter fibers, uncombed. They lie crosswise or in any direction. The yarn is not twisted tightly so that a nap may be raised. The weave is inelastic. Broadcloth, challis and flannel are examples of woolens.
Q. How is a round robin signed? T. J. C.
A. A round robin is a written paper, as a petition, memorial or remonstrance, bearing a number or signatures arranged in a circular or concentric form. This device, whereby the order of signing is concealed, is used for the purpose of making all the signers equally responsible for it.
Q. Is an apartment house kept as dry as the air of New Mexico? D. R. L.
A. The air of the majority of apartments in winter is considered a great deal drier than the climate of Colorado or New Mexico. One authority says that in some heated houses in winter the atmosphere is drier than that of the Sahara Desert.

"IF THIS BE TREASON, MAKE THE MOST OF IT"
Editor, Appleton Post-Crescent: Inasmuch as some the respected citizens of our law abiding community have been held up as gross violators of the law, and our fair names have been blemished in a way that hurts our conscience, we, singly and collectively, after a mass meeting, feel that the results of the public sentiment, as well as our view point should be set forth to the people of Outagamie county of which we feel that we constitute no small part.
From ancient times there has always been a survival of the fittest in human life as well as in these modern days of keen commercialism. We wish here to state that no sturgeon ever met his Waterloo from a commercial standpoint. We have endeavored to exterminate the species from entirely a different standpoint. We wish to tell you people of the higher lands the real reason why at times some of us have felt it incumbent to violate the to us, illegal law. Take for instance such large stock raisers as our worthy and respected citizen, Mr. C. W. Singler. He has to spend a large amount of money each year to build a sturgeon proof fence around his farm. This year he has been complaining of the unusual ferocity of the sturgeon. They tore down his fences in several places and he now has several good dairy cows, minus part of their tails, bitten off by these ferocious fish. This causes a large financial loss to their owner as they are worth a deal less without their tails.
We have a very accurate chronologic expert, who has been for years the official keeper of the weather forecasts, state of the river flow and from years of experience has developed into a real expert at figures. He not only has put up an idea that will save the tax payers of this county thousands of dollars, but to us, we feel he has solved the problem of how to take care of the damaging waters that every spring cover our fertile lands. The Northern Farms under the able guidance and ever watchful care of our worthy citizen Mike Mack spends $15 every 24 hours pumping water which will all be eliminated if we will be permitted by law to put our plan into practicable operation.
It is reported on good authority that every fifteen minutes an average of 377 large sized sturgeon go under our wagon bridge. Think of the vast amount of cubic feet of space these large fish are taking from our river bed, built by nature to be amply large enough to take care of the surplus water. Let through the space now used by these fish it is crowding the water over the banks and causing such progressive communities as join this river an annual loss of many thousands of dollars. We feel that we should be privileged to take these fish from the river and then be able to keep the river within its bed and save all the loss it entails each year.
If some of our respected citizens have, after becoming desperate and receiving no redress from their complaints felt upon themselves to do their humble part in helping eliminate the annual menace of the encroaching waters, and should they run afoul of the ever watchful eyes of those elected to protect a few legalized sportsmen that not our sturgeon and pike from the placid waters of Lake Winnebago, we ask that you judge them with leniency as they sure have cause, that we are not pirates, but worthy citizens endeavoring to do what is right according to our light.
We place this before the people of our worthy county and we are content to let you be the judge.
Respectfully Yours,
The Citizens of Shilston, (Per) B. C. Curtis, Sec.

First Woman City Manager Boosts Town

Portland—Ore.—A woman has come out to sell a city to the world. The woman is Mrs. R. E. Barrett of Seaside, Ore., and the city—Warrenton, a short dozen miles away on the Pacific coast.

Can she do it? Well—Mrs. Barrett has been appointed city manager of Warrenton—the first woman city manager in the United States. The city commission chose her from a list of 20 eligibles, and the choice was unanimous. They have confidence in her ability because of her past successes.

For example, she it was who accomplished the diverting of Montana wheat through the Columbia river gateway. Formerly the wheat had been sent east. Mrs. Barrett addressed farmers' meetings canvassed Montana wheat lands and induced railroads to lower their freight rates so that the now thousands of bushels are sent to the Columbia's mouth yearly.

Besides being influenced by this achievement of Mrs. Barrett's the Warrenton commission also remembered the good work done by its woman mayor, Miss Clara C. Munson. She voided the argument against women in politics, or as civic leaders.

Now this city of 2,000 is waiting for further development under Mrs. Barrett. And she's confident she can do it.

"I am sure Warrenton has a splendid future," she says. "You know salesmanship is my forte. Now, if I can sell Warrenton to the world—my, won't that be fine? Surely we can gain for the little city the reputation of being a nice, happy place where everyone is at ease and where all the people like each other."

Brooch Brought Back By The Bertha Collar

Quaint frocks with deep berthas have brought the brooch back. Women lucky enough to possess old-fashioned cameo or Florentine mosaics or any of the hundred and one large brooches once worn, are carefully taking them out from their little velvet cases and having them cleaned and safety fastenings put on them. The vogue for short necklaces is also a factor in making the brooch necessary.

At an Appleton jeweler's is a lovely lucid oval of amethyst, surrounded with pearls, the center ornamented with a spray of lilacs of the valley, that one woman is having restored to its old time beauty. There are earrings to match and she will wear these with the brooch.

EARRINGS FIVE INCHES LONG. A number of these brooches are being reproduced and a collection from Paris shows other old and new novelties. There are some rather startling earrings of exaggerated length. The tassels and pendants are so long that they reach almost to the shoulder. These earrings measure as much as five inches from the ear stone to the end of the tassel drop, and are made with filigree metal and colored stones, in many cases matching pendants and bracelets.

Another type of earring is oriental; the design radically differs from the hatted ones, for the drop is made of metal with a relief design in leaves or flowers tinted in color and set with different color stones to give oriental effect. Scarab and sphinx motifs are used in combination with the stones as well. A cone shaped earring is being called for; it is gaudy, and a graduated shower that is very interesting, the chain on the outer side being long and shortening to the ear.

NINETY INCH CHAINS. Long chains ranging from 60 to 90 inches also are featured, these made of Chinese amber and all sorts of stones in the ball tynes. It is the Chinese amber, however, that is especially preferred, as the color is that mostly in vogue this season. The shaft ruby is made up in this way, and owing to the fact that its color is so unusual, in the dull raspberry tones, it is well liked. The old amber is also treated in this way.

There is a demand for slave bracelets and new ones of galathea, hand carved and painted, are displayed.

There are also in the display in expensive items that are fashioned of colored glass and in this range the amber glass is shown. Perfume bottles come in large variety, in gaudy cases that look like billars with little metal bands engraved in odd designs. There are also opera glasses that are quite small and have a little metal box between the glasses which contains a little powder puff or a place for candies. The glasses are in leather cases and are quite a novelty.

OFFICIAL STATE ROAD MAP READY

Shows Numbers And Condition Of 7,500 Miles Of Highways

By Associated Press
Madison—The official map of the Wisconsin trunk highway system is now available to the public, the state highway department announced. This compilation by A. R. Hirst, highway engineer, shows the surface, grade and condition of the numbered and marked state trunk highway system.

7,500 miles, the principal county trunk highway system of 7,500 miles, the principal county trunk highways, and other secondary highways. It also contains points of historical, scenic and industrial interest, camping sites, state parks and state institutions.

"The trunk highway system can now be considered as properly marked and signed," the commission said. "The traveler who acquaints himself with these maps and watches the marking will have no trouble."

"Every effort is being made to keep highways in the best condition possible, but travelers should not expect too much, and should realize that hundreds of miles of road on the system are of inadequate types for the traffic."

"People should drive with judgment. The speed limit is 30 miles in the county and 15 in incorporated places."

KAUKAUNA OPENS SEASON WITH WIN ON HOME GROUNDS

Trentman Found For Nine Hits But Holds Visitors To 3 Runs

Kaukauna—Manager Eddie Stamp's team won the first game of the season for Kaukauna here Sunday afternoon by a score of 4 to 3. The Fond du Lac club, which opened the local team, found big Bob Trentman for nine bingles, two of which were homers and which netted the visitor's three runs. Sparking fielding and circus catches were features of the game but they helped greatly to stem the threatened tide. Eddie Johnson, Kaukauna player, and Bill Byrns, former Electric City first sacker, who now plays with Fond du Lac, helped most to decide the battle. After the invaders lead off in the first frame with two runs, Johnson's hit scored the first marker for Kaukauna and two innings later Johnson scored when Byrns allowed a roller to slip under his glove. Schultz hoisted the pill over the left garden wall in the fifth with Spier on the bags, for Fondy's first runs.

E. T. McGallan, president of the Wisconsin State League, occupied the mound and threw in the first ball. Mayor C. E. Raught donned a mask and glove and played the backstop position. As Byrns walked up to bat in the first inning he was presented with a one pound box of candy with the announcement that it came from Kaukauna fans. He struck out and on his next trip to the plate did likewise.

LISTLESS GAMES

There were thrills a plenty during the spring contest, yet the game as a whole was slow and listless. Sensational playing on the part of individuals furnished most of the thrills although Manager Harris's men threw a score in the eighth when they filled the bags. Schultz, who banged the homer in the opening stanza, clouted what looked like a ringer, but Lewis, center fielder, was in the shadow of the fence to pull the horseshoe down. Lewis added more laurels in the ninth when he made a perfect throw from the field to assist in putting out Cincosky who attempted to make third from first base on Schneider's single.

In the third frame Kaukauna annexed two runs, making the count 2 to 2 in favor of the local team. Nothing more happened until the sixth inning when a double by Graby, followed by a similar drive by Luedke, drove another run across the plate for the Electric City. "Jap" Barbeau knocked his home run in the eighth round but there were none on bases.

Schneider was slated to throw for the Cardinals but he was called to a lame arm and Schultz took the mound while Schmidt took the outfield. In the second inning Ben Stumpf, catcher brother of Kaukauna's catcher, misjudged one of Schultz's deliveries and injured his finger but was able to continue playing.

Bill Byrns was given a hand every time he came to bat. The best hitter of last year's league, however, fanned twice, singled once and was robbed of a hit when Luedke grabbed the fly off his shoe strings after making a desperate run from right field. Only about 150 fans witnessed the game.

FORMER KENOSHA CHIEF OF POLICE ASKS PAROLE

Kenosha—Owen O'Hare, former chief of the Kenosha police department, now serving a two and a half year sentence in the state prison at Waupun, has applied for a parole. Hearing on the plea will be heard by the board of control at Madison, May 15. Judge E. G. Holden, who sentenced O'Hare, will neither recommend or oppose the parole, he said. O'Hare was sentenced here several years ago. He has served half of his sentence.

Dance at Hotel Appleton, Wednesday evening.

Social Items

Kaukauna—The Eta Beta Pi club met Friday evening at the home of Miss Edith Treptow, 716 Oviatt-bldg. The evening was spent in social entertainment. Eight young ladies were present.

The monthly meeting of the Senior Christian Endeavor society of Reform church will be held at 7:30 Monday evening in the church basement. The business meeting will be followed by a social hour. A mock trial will be a feature of the entertainment. The entertainment committee has termed the meeting a "nonsense night social."

TWO DANCE RECORDS HAVE BIG SALE AT KAUKAUNA

Kaukauna—"After Every Party" and "Farewell Blues" were the most popular dance records in this city during the last week. "Mellow Moon" still remains on the list of best sellers. Following are the phonograph records which were most in demand:

KAUKAUNA PERSONALS

Kaukauna—Mrs. Charles Jansky and two children of Two Rivers spent the weekend in this city.

Kathleen McKenzia and John Hale of Madison, spent the weekend at the home of Mrs. Leona L. Hale.

Mrs. Albert Wolf was a visitor in Green Bay Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto DeKarske and Miss Odanah Hannemann left Sunday afternoon to spend a few days in Milwaukee.

Arthur Look, who is attending school at Madison, spent the weekend at his home in Kaukauna.

EAU CLAIRE C. OF C. HAS NEW SECRETARY

Eau Claire—Howard I. Wood, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce at Marinette, has been elected by the directors of the Civic and Commerce association as secretary to succeed O. A. King, who resigned not long ago to become secretary of the United Typographic of America in Chicago.

Mr. Wood will receive $4,000 a year. Mr. King, who had been secretary for six years, was getting $2,000. Several out of town applicants were examined for the position.

Mr. Wood formerly was an Appleton newspaper man.

INVITE NATIONAL CHIEF TO G. A. R. ENCAMPMENT

Oshkosh—The state or department encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic, to be held in Oshkosh, June 11, 12 and 13, may be graced by the presence of the national commander, James Willett, of Iowa.

An invitation has been extended through the committee in charge of the campfire to be held on the evening of the last day and it has been announced that Mr. Willett will be here if possible.

LUCKY TO HAVE FARM HELP AT $50 A MONTH

That farmers in Wisconsin are lucky to have a man in whom they can offer $40 or $50 a month as farm hand is the opinion of Paul Sybus, former farm agent of the First National bank here. Mr. Sybus says that farm labor is not only high but scarce.

The interview also indicated that Mr. Sybus has found that there was a general feeling of gloom over crops and alfalfa. He said that the sowing of small grains in the central part of the state was approximately ten days late.

CAN'T BE PRESIDENT AND SUPERVISOR ALSO

Madison—Village caucuses in Wisconsin have no power to consolidate the office of president and supervisor. P. E. Pump, assistant attorney general, held in an opinion to T. G. Lewis, Dane co. district attorney.

A person, who in a vote for the combined office receives the highest number of votes, is not entitled to a seat on the county board of supervisors if the village, the opinion held. It added the incumbent in the office of supervisor in such case holds over until his successor is elected and qualified.

LARGE CROWD IS PRESENT AT PROM

High School Party At Hortonville Is Biggest Event Of Season

(Special to Post-Crescent)
Hortonville—The biggest social event of the season, the high school junior prom, was held at the auditorium Thursday evening. A large crowd attended.

The auditorium was beautifully decorated with paper flowers, Japanese lanterns and parasols, and shaded electric lamps. The color scheme was largely green and pink. The decorations were also profuse in the dining room.

The grand march which took place at 11 o'clock was led by Miss Verona Meshke, the junior class president, and Arno Meshke.

DIES IN GREEN BAY

Mrs. Feldschmidt, a resident of Hortonville until about a year ago, died at a home for the aged at Green Bay last Wednesday. The body was conveyed to L. E. Schmidt, undertaker, established here. The funeral was held Saturday morning at the Catholic church.

Irwin Breyer is employed at the Fish Barber shop.

Mrs. John Meshke and son Arno of Milwaukee are visiting at the Chris. Meshke home.

Mr. S. Schwarz, Vernon Klein, Charles Stillman and Myron Steffen went to Oshkosh last week and returned Friday with new cars for the Hortonville Auto company.

George Knapp has gone to Minneapolis to spend the summer with his sons.

Mrs. H. P. Meffert, who spent the past two weeks at Milwaukee, returned home last week.

Robert Amundsen, county agent, was a business visitor in this vicinity Thursday.

STATE AGAIN WILL ISSUE ROAD MAPS

Weekly Service Showing Condition Of Highways Soon To Be Started

The Wisconsin highway commission will furnish a highway service map on practically the same plan as was in effect in 1922, it announces. The highway service map is 40 by 48 inches and contains all the state trunk and principal county trunk highways. The map itself has been improved somewhat over that of 1922.

It shows by different conventions the type of road and also designates in colors the jobs under construction throughout the state. Construction jobs that offer no impediment to travel are shown in green, and those closed to traffic are shown in red. The detours around such closed construction jobs are also shown in green. In other words, those roads shown in green may be traveled and those shown in red are closed to travel.

The information is forwarded each Monday from the nine division offices of the commission and is immediately transferred to blank highway service maps and the maps are mailed to the subscribers on Wednesday. These maps will be received not later than Thursday, thus giving patrons information for week-end trips.

The service this season will extend over a period of twenty weeks or more, beginning about May 15 and ending about Oct. 15. The charge for such service will be $10 for the season, which amount is estimated to be the actual cost. Since copies will be furnished for 75 cents each.

In addition to the payment of the above fee, the regular subscriber must agree to furnish a frame on which to mount the weekly maps and give them a suitable location where the public may have access to same.

"CRYING FOR YOU" SELLS WELL IN SHEET MUSIC

"Crying for You" and "Mellow Moon" have been the best sellers in sheet music this last week at the local music stores according to reports from dealers in music. "Mellow Moon" has been the hit in popular music for several weeks and it is still going big.

"Crying for You," "Dearest" and "Don't Think You'll be Missed" also have been good numbers. The five best sellers at each of the four music stores have been:

Meyer-Seeger Music Co: Crying for You, After Every Party, Dearest, Mellow Moon, Some of These Days.

Irrving Zueke: Faded Love Letters, Mellow Moon, Crinoline Days, My Virginia Rose, Carolina Home.

Carroll's Music Store: Crying for You, Apple Sauce, Don't Think You'll be Missed, Some Little Someone, Who's Sorry Now.

Miss S. E. Anderson: Basket of Roses, Dreamy Melody, Picture Without a Frame, Lenore, Sahara Butterflies.

BREAKFAST IN A HURRY

Ask for Quick Quaker Oats if you want breakfast in a hurry. It cooks in from 3 to 5 minutes—as well as an hour could cook it. No other oat flakes on the market cook anywhere near so quickly.

The same delicious flavor as regular Quaker Oats. Flaked from the finest grains only. But in Quick Quaker, the oats are cut before flaking. They are rolled very thin and partly cooked. So the flakes are smaller and thinner—that is all. And those small, thin flakes cook quickly.

Your grocer has both styles—the Quick and the regular. If you want this quick cooking ask for Quick Quaker.

B. & L. DIVIDENDS ARE NOT TAX-FREE

Dividends received on shares in building and loan associations hereafter will be taxable the same as any other income, according to a ruling agreed upon by Marshall Cousins, state commissioner of banking, and the Wisconsin tax commission.

A letter from Mr. Cousins received by George H. Beckley, secretary of Appleton Building and Loan association, explains the ruling and clears up a point about which there have been differences for some time.

Hon. Thomas E. Lyons, chairman of the tax commission declares in his ruling that the building and loan association itself need pay no tax on its profits as is required of private corporations. The individuals who receive dividends on their shares must pay, however, as these are treated the same as interest on deposits or securities or other kinds.

ALFRED C. MORLOCK TELLS EXPERIENCE TO PROVE ITS MERIT

Chicagoan Lost Weight and Energy and Suffered Whole Year Before Taking Tanlac

"I have found out from personal experience the merits of Tanlac, and I could talk about it all day and never get tired," is the positive statement of Alfred R. Morlock, well-known advertising man, of 1406 N. Mainline Ave., Chicago, Ill.

"Before I took Tanlac treatment I was in a badly run-down condition and felt so out of sorts for nearly a year I hardly had energy enough to do my work. My nerves were all frayed. I couldn't sleep soundly, and I suffered terribly with indigestion. I lost my appetite, fell off in weight, had splitting headaches, and was simply in awful shape."

"Tanalac gave me a ravenous appetite and my indigestion soon disappeared. I have so much new energy now that the biggest pile of work can't worry me and I have gained ten pounds. Tanlac is a high class medicine, and I am glad to tell others about it."

Tanalac is for sale by all good druggists. Accept no substitute. Over 37 million bottles sold.

Tanalac Vegetable Pills are nature's own remedy for constipation. For sale everywhere.

CREWS BEGIN WORK ON COUNTY PAVING

Projects Will Unite Group Of Towns On County Trunk Highways

Pouring of concrete will begin this week on the two-mile stretch on the Greenville-Stephensville rd. for which Simpson and Parker have the contract. The road builders have hitherto been engaged in grading and otherwise preparing for the paving of the highway. A vibratory pavement is to be constructed on this road.

Greinke Brothers, who have the contract for building four miles on the Dale-Medina rd. are now engaged in grading. It will be some time before they will be ready for paving the road. It is a federal-state project.

The first work on the Appleton-Seymour rd. is expected to be undertaken about the middle of next week, when Parker and Wunderlich, contractors, will probably build the necessary culverts. Grading will follow soon after. The stretch of concrete to be built on this road this summer is about 2 1/2 miles and will complete the ribbon concrete highway from Appleton to Seymour and beyond to the north and east county lines.

The remaining concrete road construction is 1 1/2 miles on the Clintonville-New London rd. for which William Tate of Bear Creek has the contract. It is expected that this work will also be started shortly.

Put Meaning Into Your Traffic Signals By This Simple System

If The Five Signs, All Convenient With Left Hand, Are Used Driving Without Confusion Is Possible

Put meaning into your traffic signal.

That is the thought behind the nationwide movement for the observance of a logical set of automobilists' warning signals which are gradually becoming universal and which Chief George T. Prim of the Appleton police department is seeking to introduce here.

The need of uniform traffic rules has long been the desire of motorists everywhere, and a step in that direction is the observance of a set of uniform traffic signals by drivers who signal their intentions to their fellows.

The system of signals described here is not an arbitrary one that was "introduced" merely for the sake of introducing something. The reason why it fell into such popularity among motorists is because it is based upon an individual's natural habits. It involves no painful operation, no forceful inculcation on mind and memory, no new "wrinkles" in the art of signaling.

ONE WARNING NOW
At present there is but one recognized driver's warning gesture. It is stick out your hand! Whether you stop, back up, turn around, go to the left or right, it is just—stick out your hand. Since the driver's hand can be seen only on the left, it naturally is the left hand he has to "stick out."

The system proposed here and coming into use generally takes the foregoing signal as a basis and enlarges it to comprehend five signals which are in no way confusing.

The first traffic signal learned by any infant is thrusting out its forefinger. The driver who would turn to the left points with the forefinger of the left hand, the only hand that is visible from the rear, in the direction he is about to go. To turn to the left, point to the left—with the forefinger of the left hand. How simple it really is! Can you think of any other signal more easily? This is the signal described in illustration No. 1.

Now look at illustration No. 2. It shows the back of a man's hand extended. It is the left hand. The A B C of automobile drivers' signals teaches you, who already know, that it is the signal to stop. Is it not the very signal you have been using heretofore, even if it is the same signal you may have been using to signify everything? How simple it is! To notify the man behind the wheel of your desire to stop, just thrust out the whole hand, showing the side that comes most natural to you, namely the back.

None the less difficult is the signal shown in illustration No. 3. The driver has again thrust out his hand. It is the very same hand but this time the palm is shown and the thumb is down. You intuitively recognize the signal that the man intends to back up. How quickly the driver can make that signal and how readily it is interpreted! Try it the next time you intend to back up on College-ave. Just thrust out your left hand, with the thumb down and the palm visible to the man in the rear.

We are now ready for the next lesson. The driver who would turn to the right and cannot thrust out his right hand so that it will be in view, asks what it is to be done. What does he do when he turns to the left? He points his forefinger to the left. What on earth is the index finger good for, if it isn't for indexing. Very well to turn to the right let us point to the right with the forefinger of the left hand. That is what the man in illustration No. 4 is plainly doing. He has raised his hand and is pointing with left index finger to the right.

The class will now look at the last illustration, No. 5. What do we see? The same automobile; the same man; the same hand. The hand is in the act of making a circle. What does it mean? We knit our brows. We grow pensive. We tax our brains. We shyly venture—the man wants to turn around, make a circle with your hand!

That's all there is to it. And the beauty of it is that there is no traffic law to enforce the system. You have the unalloyed pleasure of making the signs as often as you want without caring whether the policeman is watching you or not, but knowing that you are doing something sensible, something that your fellow motorist will appreciate as much as you, were you in his place.

MAJOR SHERMAN IS HOSPITAL ATTACHE

Son Of Appleton Attached To Government Hospital At Hot Springs

Appleton men who have visited at Hot Springs, Ark., have been greatly impressed by the huge Army and Navy general hospital maintained there by the United States government. This hospital is for the care of war veterans who are seeking relief from various forms of gout and rheumatism, neuralgia, malaria poisoning and other diseases that the waters of Hot Springs have a reputation in benefiting.

Among the officers of this institution is Major A. Edward Sherman, son of John J. Sherman of Appleton. The hospital is under the command of Colonel Thomas S. Branton.

The hospital was established in 1883 and thousands of former soldiers and sailors have been benefited by the treatment received there. A small charge is made by the government except in the case of men entitled to care under provisions of the war risk insurance law.

APRIL BRINGS 501 MEMBERS TO A. A. L.

An addition of 501 members was made to the Aid Association for Lutherans during April, according to the report which will be submitted to the board of trustees of the association at the monthly meeting Tuesday by G. D. Ziegler, president. The insurance policies issued to those persons amounted to $612,250.

This number was below the March record, which was 572 members subscribing for insurance of $665,000. The business showed a rapid increase toward the end of April, however, and is continuing thus in May, giving promise that this month will be a big one.

BETTER THAN CALOMEL

Thousands Have Discovered
Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a Harmless Substitute

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the substitute for calomel—are a mild but sure laxative, and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous. These little olive-colored tablets are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel. The pleasant little tablets do the good that calomel does, but have no bad after effects. They don't injure the teeth like strong liquids or calomel. They take hold of the trouble and quickly correct it. Why cure the liver at the expense of the teeth? Calomel sometimes plays havoc with the gums. So do strong liquids. It is best not to take calomel. Let Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets take its place.

Headaches, "dullness" and that lazy feeling come from constipation and a disordered liver. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel "lgy" and "heavy." They "clear" clouded brain and "perk up" the spirits. 15c and 30c.

APPLETON DROPS DIAMOND BATTLE TO MENASHA, 7 TO 4

Papermakers Outslug Pailmakers But Better Fielding Wins Contest

Brautigan Clan Loses Ninth Inning Rally As Ump Rules Ball Over Left Field A Foul Hit—2,000 See Battle

Sunday's Games
Menasha 7, Appleton 4.
Kaikauna 4, Pottsville 3.
Sheboygan 13, Oshkosh 5.
Green Bay 2, Marinette 0.

Nearly 2,000 baseball fans, filling every seat in the Menasha ball park, saw the Twin City aggregation sweat a 7 to 4 victory over Appleton in the opening game of the Wisconsin State league Sunday afternoon. But Monday many an Appleton fan will recall a game ninth inning rally only to be spoiled by Umpire J. H. Coffeen of Green Bay. It was one of those heart-rending decisions that might have gone the other way.

The Papermakers went to bat with a 7 to 4 score against them. Beyer, first up in the ninth, popped to the Menasha pitcher. Weidell who followed him, socked a line drive. Sylvester singled and the fans split over the decision when Brautigan sailed the ball over the fence toward the right field. It was Menasha's first run and no one on the bases. Up to that time Appleton had already scored two runs, the first coming from Weidell, the new Paper City center-fielder. "Dutch" Sylvester scored in the third and Sylvester scored again in the seventh inning. The victory four-sacker over centerfield. The other run for Appleton was made by Marty Lamers in the eighth.

Pitcher Lane who followed in the batting for Appleton after Rush had swatted his homer, nearly got even when he socked the ball toward the leftfield, striking the fence. Lane went for three bases but was unable to score. Menasha's last run came in the sixth when Cissa, third baseman, and formerly a member of the Chair City tribe, clouted a homer. All bags were clear.

WEIDELL SCORES FIRST
Appleton started out with Beyer at the head of the batting lineup. He sent the ball sailing for a single. Weidell advanced him to second but was caught off third. Sylvester slammed out a three bagger, scoring Beyer. Brautigan singled but Sylvester was unable to get home. Marty and Boots Lamers both were retired as poppings.

Lane, assisted by good fielding, made quick work after he had struck out Eddie Weisgerber that took some pep out of the Appleton twirler. Russell was caught at second after he tried to stretch a single base hit and Leopold fanned.

FOURTH IS DISASTROUS
The fourth was a disastrous for Appleton though Lane socked a three bagger. It was this same fourth frame that proved disastrous to Appleton when the Menasha batsmen got busy. Zielskie, third baseman, started things when he singled. Braby advanced Zielskie and Scheleske fled to Lane. Catcher Thornton rolled out to first, and two home-runners scored. Cissa got a two bagger and Weisgerber brought home when Weisgerber hit Lane for another two bagger. Rush popped out to second. Menasha brought in two more runs in the fifth. Russell and Zielskie scoring. Cissa's homer came next. Menasha was held scoreless in the seventh and eighth.

The fifth and sixth were without runs for Appleton. Sylvester's homer came in the seventh.

Appleton opened the ninth with Len Smith batting in place of Lane. He was thrown out by the pitcher. Beyer did the same. Weidell followed with a double. Sylvester singled and then came Brautigan's disputed swing over the fence.

FEW ARE STRUCK OUT
Lane whiffed three men and held the Pailmakers to nine hits. Rush struck out five men and allowed thirteen hits with four being tallied by Sylvester.

KAUKAUNA BEATS FONDY
Kaikauna—Kaikauna, playing ball behind Bob Trentman, won the opening game of the Wisconsin State league Sunday afternoon from Fond du Lac before a record crowd by a score of 4 to 3. Cissas catcher, and fast fielding by Kaikauna players, robbed Fond du Lac batters of several hits. T. E. McGilgan, president of the league, opened the game by pitching the first ball. Charles E. Raught, Kaikauna mayor, was on the receiving end.

Batteries: Schultz and B. Stumpf; Trentman and E. Stumpf.

It's Knuckle Ball Now!

BY BILLY EVANS
Pitching runs in cycles.

When I joined the American league 18 years ago, the fast ball, pitched high, was the thing.

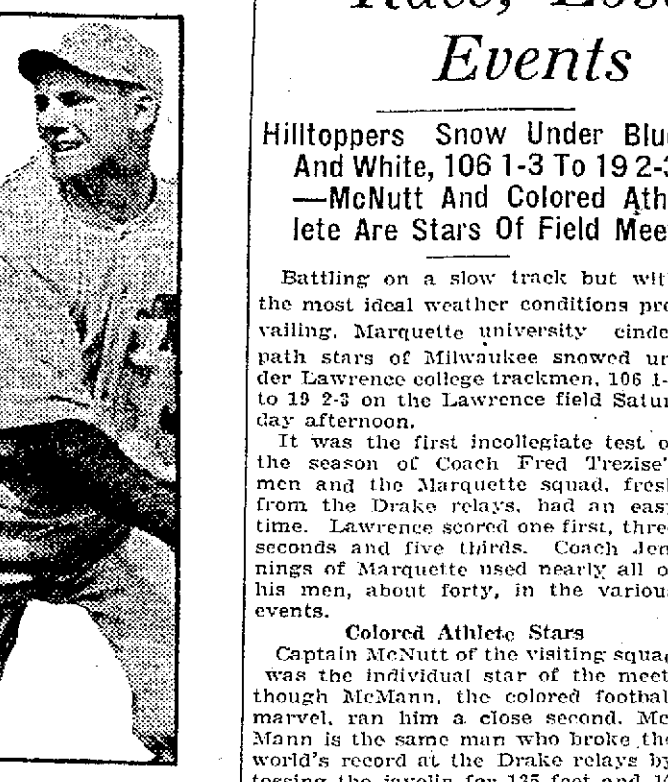

Pitchers like Cy Young who had plenty of zip on their fast one, which they kept shoulder high, had been in vogue some time before I joined the majors. It had a run of perhaps 10 years.

Then came the era of the spit ball. Few deliveries have stirred up as much agitation pro and con as the spit ball.

Split ball pitchers early discovered that it was necessary to keep the spit ball at the knee to be effective. It is a well-known fact in baseball that a spit ball broken above the waist line loses much of its deceptive power.

COMING OF SPIT BALL
Spit ball pitching proved so effective that a majority of the pitchers went to the delivery. Others who didn't really use it faked the delivery for the psychological effect.

The spit ball changed entirely the style of pitching from the high to the low ball, as the most effective weapon against the batter. Only the real veterans stuck to the fast ball, high and inside, as their big throw. Cy Young held to it to the very end, although late in his career. Cy developed a pretty fair curve that he used to advantage by crossing the boys up.

The spit ball was the forerunner of an era of freak deliveries. In an effort to retain supremacy over the batsman, pitchers began to doctor the ball to get an unusual break.

VOGUE OF FREAK DELIVERIES
One of the discoveries made by the over alert pitchers was that by roughening the ball it was possible to make the ball sail or break down, according to where the purchase was placed on the ball. Freak deliveries to a certain extent brought back the fast ball, high and inside, although the low ball was used as much as if not more.

So great an advantage did the freak deliveries give the pitchers that they were legislated out of baseball, including the spitter. It was the belief that more hitting was desired, and that elimination of freak deliveries would bring it about.

Likewise in the desire to supply more hitting the ball was made more lively. A lively ball and no freak deliveries made for more hitting.

Already the lively ball has revolutionized the art of pitching. A twirler who depends almost exclusively on speed, hasn't a chance in the majors today. A change of pace is most essential.

NOW IT'S THE KNUCKLE BALL
In order to cope with the batsman, pitchers have found it necessary to be able to slow up. There can be no steady diet of any particular style, the pitcher must resort to every stock in trade.

The present season is destined to see a majority of pitchers using the knuckle ball. The knuckle ball is delivered with ordinary speed, just enough to throw the batter off his stride after looking at a fast one.

Aside from supplying the much desired change of pace the knuckle ball fairly shimmies up to the plate and is exceedingly difficult to hit any great distance.

In all the games I have worked so far this year I have seen only two pitchers who failed to at least experiment with the knuckle ball.

In baseball it's a survival of the fittest with the pitcher and batsman constantly fighting for supremacy.

At present the batsmen have the edge.

RACE IN JUNIOR LEAGUE IS CLOSE

Four Teams Are Tied In American League For Fourth Place

By Associated Press
Chicago—Nearing the finish of three weeks of play the races in both major leagues have disclosed keener competition all down the line than in most seasons. There were only four places in the American league when play started Monday, one team was in first, two in second, one in third, and four tied for fourth and three tied for third in the National.

Though they lost to the Philadelphia Athletics—the sensation team of the season—5 to 1, before 55,000 people the New York Yankees managed to start on a road trip in first place as both Detroit and Cleveland lost. By defeating Boston 4 to 1, Washington became level with the Red Sox and enabled Chicago, which won its third straight from Detroit, 4 to 2, and St. Louis which won from Cleveland 5 to 4, to go into a four cornered tie for fourth place.

Chicago and Pittsburgh both lost ground in the National by losing, while New York and Boston were idle. Through its victory over the Cubs, 16 to 4, St. Louis went into a tie for third place with Pittsburgh which lost to Cincinnati, 8 to 7. Brooklyn made a motion toward getting out of the cellar by downing Philadelphia, 7 to 4.

Rogers Hornsby, leading major home run hitter last year, made two circuit swats, bringing his total to four this season and Charlie Grimm, Pirate first sacker, hit safely, keeping his consecutive record for the season clear. He now has hit in the 19 games played this season.

Jacques Fournier, traded to Brooklyn by St. Louis and who said he would not play there Sunday made his first appearance with the Robins and failed to hit.

Tris Speaker of the Indians, because it is alleged he got exceedingly "lippy" toward Umpire Ormsby Wednesday at Detroit, has been suspended for a spell.

ANOTHER MEET NEXT WEEK
Lawrence will stage another meet next Saturday when Stevens Point and Oshkosh Normal will be the "guests." The balance of the season will be spent out of the city. May 18, Lawrence will meet at St. John's Military academy at Delafield, Wis. On May 26 the Blue and White School will journey to Galesburg, Ill. to participate in the Midwest conference meet to be staged under the auspices of Knox college.

Lawrence will end its cinder path activities June 2 when it will journey to Beloit, to participate in the Little Five conference doings.

High's Double With Sacks Choked Wins For Brooklyn

Brooklyn—Andy High's double with the bases full drove Weinert out of the box on Sunday and aided materially in Brooklyn's victory over Philadelphia, 7 to 4. Cadore pitched his first game of the season and was steady until the ninth, when he gave three bases on balls. Fournier made his debut with Brooklyn, relieving Schliebner, when Manager Letcher sent in Winters, a right handed pitcher.

Fournier fielded well, but made no hits, walking once and grounding out the rest time. Cy Williams made his eighth home run this season.

Batteries: Mitchell, Winters, Weinert and Wilson; Cadore and Taylor.

REDS WIN FOR CHANGE
Cincinnati—The Reds broke their streak of five straight games on Sunday by beating the Pittsburgh Pirates, 3 to 2. Grimm of Pittsburgh led off with a single in the eighth, having hit safely in every one of the nineteen championship games played to date.

Batteries: Hamilton, Carlson, Barty and Schmidt; Donohue, Logue and Hargrave and Wingo.

LOCAL AMATEURS DROP TEN INNING EXHIBITION GAME

Greenville Cops Ball Tilt At Brandt Park By 7 To 6 Score

Appleton nine of the Fox River Valley Home Players league, dropped a ten inning exhibition game, 7 to 6, to Greenville, Sunday afternoon at Brandt park.

After playing tight ball for two innings the Greenville batsmen discovered Weintraub and slammed out three runs. Appleton came back in the same frame and got two runs. The score was tied in the fourth when Tappert singled and Ashman doubled. Appleton took a three run lead in the sixth but Greenville tied the score in the eighth with the score standing, 6 to 6. Greenville made a run in the tenth.

Pitchers on both sides were practically on a par. Weintraub of Appleton retired 12 and Turner of the visitors struck out 15. Ashman and Mayofski were the only ones to register two base hits.

SIMMONS DEFEAT FAIRIES IN BATTING BEE, 5 TO 2

Kenosha—Driving basepoor to the showers in the first inning, the Simmons company team of Kenosha won a Midwest league game from the Beloit Fairies here Sunday afternoon by a score of 5 to 2. Phil, hurling for the Redmacks, was entitled to a shut-out, two errors giving the visitors their runs.

Batteries: For Simmons, Phil, and Robbins; for Fairies, Liverpool, Kemman and Murphy.

DOUBLE PLAY BY SOX UPSET DETROIT

Chicago Makes It Three Straight In Game Before 32,000

Chicago—In a game featured by double plays: five of which were made by the White Sox, Chicago made it three straight from Detroit on Sunday, 4 to 3, before a crowd of approximately 32,000. Charley Robertson, backed by great support, held the visitors until the eighth inning, when a rally gave Detroit the lead, the locals having scored two runs previously.

Chicago won the game in the eighth when they bunched hits off Francis.

Batteries: Francis, Pilette and Woodall; Robertson and Schalk.

FOHLS RALLY, WIN
Cleveland—With two out in the ninth and no one on bases St. Louis proceeded to score two runs and win from Cleveland, 5 to 4. Singles by Tobin and Foster and a double by Jacobson turned the trick. The game was featured by a sensational catch by Jamieson and a diving pickup by Danforth.

Manager Spener of Cleveland did not play, receiving notice Sunday morning of his suspension because of a disrespectful remark made to Umpire Ormsby after Wednesday's game at Detroit.

Batteries: Pruett, Wright, Danforth, Van Gilder and Severoid; Smith, Morton and Myatt.

JOHNSON WINS AGAIN

Washington—Walter Johnson pitched to a 4 to 1 victory over Boston on Sunday and with a triple in the second inning drove in the winning runs. The Red Sox filled the bases in the second inning with none out, but Johnson struckout Murray and Mitchell and Collins preyed to the infield.

Batteries: Ferguson, Murray and Pincin; Johnson and Ruchl.

MACKS DEFEAT YANKS
New York—The Philadelphia Americans made it two out of three from New York here on Sunday, winning the deciding game, 5 to 1. It was the first series Philadelphia has taken from the Yankees in years. Rommell was effective with men on bases, Witt and Ruth doing most of New York's hitting. Jones lost his second game of the series, but was handpicked by poor support. A new attendance record was established for a three game series, 110,000 persons attending the three games between New York and the Athletics.

Batteries: Rommell and Perkins; Mays, Jones and Hoffman.

BOXING SHOW TO BE STAGED HERE ON FRIDAY, MAY 18

Archie Meisner, Of Mitchell Stable, Is One Of Principals Being Considered

The next boxing show in Appleton will be staged on Friday, May 18. Such is the announcement made Monday by the Mid-West Athletic club, which Elmer Johnston is the boss, which Elmer Johnston is the boss, who the entertainers will be but Johnston has been quite busy recently and expects to have a classy card. Among the men who are known to have been asked to consider a date for this city is Archie Meisner, formerly of Me-nominee, Mich., but now of the Mitchell stable in Milwaukee. Meisner, regarded as one of the coming welters, is credited with conditioning both Pinkie and Ritchie, Mitchell for their battles.

Meisner has been doing some fighting in Marinette and Sheboygan, where he won all of his fights. At the last fight in Sheboygan, it is said that hundreds of fans were turned away because of the packed house. If the word of his own press agent is to be taken Meisner is a perpetual motion fighter as he starts at the zong in the first round and doesn't quit until the end.

ahead fails to get him out of range it is customary to refrain from teasing off until he has done so. It is not permissible to play up to the putting green until the party ahead has holed out and moved away.

Upon discovering his ball is unfit for play, the player may change it, on intimating to his opponent his intention to do so.

3 RECORDS HOLD POPULAR PLACE

"You Know You Belong To Someone Else" Now In Big Demand

Three record numbers have been equally as popular for the last week at the local music stores. They are "Mellow Moon," "Aggravating Papa" and "You Know You Belong to Someone Else." All have been in demand before but the first two have been hits much longer than the last one which has just commenced to become popular. "Faded Love Letters" is a number which has just made its appearance among the popular selections. "Song of India" by Galli Cuvet has been the most popular classical number for the week.

The numbers in greatest demand in each kind of record have been:

Victor: Where the Silvery Colorado Winds it Way, Faded Love Letters, University Lancers, Man in the Moon Waltz, Song of India (Galli Cuvet).

Columbia: Aggravating Papa, Sweet One, Runnin' Wild, Hallelujah Blues, Somewhere a Voice is Calling (Carmela Bonelli).

Edison: I'm Drifting Back to Dreamland, Beal Street, Mamma, Deariest, You Know You Belong to Someone Else, Dream of the Tyrolienne (Venetian Instrumental Quartet).

Okeh: Loose Feet, You've Got to See Mamma Every Night, Baby Blue Eyes, Fate, Way Down Yonder in New Orleans.

Brunswick: You Know You Belong to Someone Else, Aggravating Papa, Crying for You, Love and the Moon, Murmurs of the Forest (Joseph Hoffman).

Vocalion: Mellow Moon, After Every Party, Bumbalina, Think of Me, Mari! Mari!

Victor: Mellow Moon, Farewell Blues, Bumbalina, Some Little Someone, Song of India (Galli-Cuvet).

LOCAL MEN WILL MANAGE 'Y' CAMP

Dennison Makes Appointments To Cherry Camp Jobs At Sturgeon Bay

The management and commissary staff of the Appleton section of the cherry pickers camp at Sturgeon Bay has been selected. The cherry pickers will be fortunate this year because well known Appleton men will be in charge.

J. E. Dennison, superintendent of all the "Y" camps in Door-co, has again secured the services of "Ma" Deacon of Oconto, who will appease hungry appetites. The Rev. C. W. Cross of the Congregational church will be physical director and orchard boss, and his assistant orchard boss will be Harold Zuehlke. LeVahn Maesch of Lawrence college will be camp business secretary and Leonard Henrikson, Lawrence college, will be director.

A large number of circulars has been sent out and applications are coming in daily. The camp has accommodation for more than 100 boys and it is expected this year's attendance will be a record one.

'ALL IN LIFETIME' IS POPULAR BOOK

Morgenthau And Lane Authors Of Best Liked Nonfiction Numbers

"All In a Life Time" by Morgenthau was the nonfiction book in greatest demand last week at Appleton public library.

Mr. Morgenthau's autobiography is the story of an upright and unassuming man whose idealism is properly ballasted and who has guarded well the important secrets entrusted to him and performed well the important duties assigned to him. There is nothing vainglorious in his narrative. It is modest, simple and direct. He has a talent for crisp and vivid characterization, he comments freely upon the distinguished persons with whom he had relations. Some of his anecdotes—as those about Mr. Bryan and Henry Ford—will be relished by many readers. A striking illustration of the soundness of his judgment is afforded in the account of a talk he had with Venizelos during the peace conference.

"Letter of Franklin K. Lane, also has been a popular non-fiction number. Biographies and autobiographies have been among the types of books which have been in greatest demand among nonfiction readers.

The three best fiction numbers, "The Enchanted April" by Armin, "Rough-Hewn" by Canfield and "Stella Dallas" by Freudy have now been in greatest demand for nearly four weeks. They are comparatively new numbers and have been recently cataloged at the local library.

"Wonderful Adventures of Nils" by Lagerlof and "Dandelion Cottage" by Rankin are demanded by the children in their department of the library. The last story has been one of the most popular children's numbers all year.

Nearby Highway Work To Cost $3,000,000

More than $3,000,000 will be spent on new road construction in north-eastern Wisconsin this year and an additional $500,000 will be devoted to maintenance work, according to O. C. Rollman, district engineer for the state highway department.

The program calls for the construction of 70 miles of concrete road, of which four miles is 9 feet in width and the remainder 16, 18 and 20 feet. About 200 miles of grading and graveling is the other principal item. Cost of the concrete road will total about $1,700,000. About $21,000,000 will be available throughout the state this year for road work.

About one-half of the concrete road construction of the district will be in Brown-co. for 35 miles of concrete highways are to be built. Ten and one-half miles will be laid on the Blake-rd; 5 miles on the West Holland-rd; 3½ miles on the Shawano-rd; 4 miles on the New Franklin-rd; Blake Construction company of Appleton will build 5 miles of concrete on the Eaton-Kewaunee-rd. In addition, there are two gaps on the DePere-Greenleaf-rd.

I SPIED TODAY

BURNED HER BED

An incident which occurred at Combined Locks seems to indicate that children of today who sleep in fancy beds on sageless springs know nothing of the old day sleeping equipment. An elderly lady of the village was cleaning house. Following the annual custom, she took out her one mattress, opened the ticking and dumped the corn husk fillings onto the lawn to receive renovation through air and sunlight while the cloth was being washed. Of course the boys at a nearby school thought a bonfire was awaiting a match and applied the little flame. The woman, rather than sleep on a hard bed for the night, went to several farms to obtain a new supply of husks. There are none to be had now so she was obliged to accept hay for filling.

OLE SWIMMING HOLE

While coming from Neenah Saturday evening about 5 o'clock on the street car, I spied two boys about 15 years old standing on the canal bank just east of the drawbridge crossing the canal. Of course there is nothing unusual about seeing two boys of the above mentioned age stand along the river bank, but these boys, cold as it was had on bathing suits ready for the first dip of the season.

C. & N. W. BUILDING THREE NEW DEPOTS

New London, Elcho And Eagle River Soon Will Have New Buildings

Announcement has been made by the Chicago and Northwestern railway that its engineering department has drawn up plans and specifications for new depots at Elcho, Eagle River and New London on the Ashland division. The depots at the first two named places will replace those which were destroyed by fire last year, while at the latter place, the new structure will replace the old one which will be used for a freight depot.

The station at Elcho will probably be a combination freight and passenger depot somewhat larger than the one it replaces and will be finished in stucco in old English style. Separate passenger and freight depots will be built at Eagle River, the former of brick and stucco construction and the latter frame.

The passenger depot at New London will be similar to the one at Eagle River and will be erected on the site of the present building, which will be moved to a new site. The latter will then be remodeled for freight service.

Soot Fire

The chief of the fire department answered a call to Hopfensperger Brothers meat market on College-ave at 9 o'clock Saturday evening to extinguish a soot fire in the smoke pipe leading from the smoke house.

MY GOODNESS! YET?

Saturday afternoon while I was standing in front of Pitz & Triber's jewelry store a well dressed young lady passed, who had on a short skirt and very sheer silk stockings and near the ankle was a neatly folded five dollar bill which evidently got there without the owners knowledge.

"Somebody's running an iron on our stuff over in the Buttes," he burst out. "They're overhauling us and drivin' 'em out. I was up to the Needle this noon, seen 'em what we'd have to do to that old road if not a sight of the hombraes from there."

Acklin uncrossed his legs lazily. "Gee, we'll put a stop to that in a hurry. There's a couple of the boys over there to dry-camp."

"And Kildare the only sober one in the bunch," the foreman muttered scornfully.

The Big Boss contracted his eyes. "Send him," he ordered. "He's been spotted by the Blasques by now. Cash, I reckon he won't come back until he's got his men. Let Melody go along."

Melody started out, when Acklin called him back.

"About that rock," he began. "We're going to need it."

The foreman's mouth opened in surprise. "What?" he cried. "We're goin' to—"

"Build our dam," Cash flopped into a chair in actual physical weakness.

"When do we begin?" he finally asked in an awed voice.

"Today. I'm going to town tonight to get the stuff started on its way."

"Kildare was glad of the chance to be on his own. Ranging through the Buttes would give him an opportunity to reconnoiter the mysterious house on Webster Creek without being seen."

A glance at Melody showed that weary man swaying from side to side as if he slept. But he managed to keep one eye half open as he rode along.

"Guess a bed would look mighty good to you right this minute," Blaze laughed.

Melody pulled his Ingersoll chain and all from an inside vest pocket. "That's my nice," he asserted, as he held up the charm that dangled from the end of his chain, for Blaze's inspection.

Blaze felt his pulse jump as he caught sight of it. Beyond the shadow of a doubt, it was the charm that had made the impression in the sand on the rim-rock above Smoky Canon.

"Where'd you get this?" Blaze demanded anxiously.

"I suppose it's yours?" the other flashed back.

"I know what I'm talking about. When did you pick it up?"

"A couple of days ago, in the sand around the hitchin' post, outside the door at the Bull's Head."

"I'm goin' to keep this, just because," he held the charm in his open palm. The red haired one had caught something between the lines. Blaze glanced at him. "The man that owns this," he went on, "killed Old Ironsides."

CHAPTER XXI
AN OFFER FOR THE RANCHO

No hint of the building of the dam had reached Kildare and Melody. Owing to Melody's vigilance and old Wash's fondness for the mighty dollar, no word of the work had passed the Double A frontier.

Owing to Mercedes' care, Esteban was as well as ever. He kept the hacienda supplied with enough water sinking shallow wells in the bed of the creek.

Mercedes had gone to the cemetery and was on her way home when she came upon Acklin.

"Things look pretty bad down here, Mercedes," he said, with a show of sympathy. "I suppose you are pretty well discouraged."

"My people were never easily discouraged in the past, Senor," she answered with pride. "What we had, we made for ourselves."

"But I don't want to fight you," Acklin continued in that same low uncompromising tone. "I'll buy the rancho, and give you a good price: twice what I'd give anybody else."

"No! No! We may starve; you may even take the Rancho away from us by force. But we will not sell!"

"Here comes Kent and your brother now. You talk it over with Esteban. I'll stand by my promise."

"Hello, Miss Mercedes," Tuscorora called out.

Without any preamble Joe jumped on the thing that was on his mind. "Brand and I got to the bottom of this fight a little sooner than we expected." He stopped to regard the Big Boss accusingly. "You play it whole hog or none, don't you?"

Acklin's answer was his stock grin.

"This fight goes 'way beyond any question of water," Tuscorora non thined. "It wasn't votin' to suit you. It didn't matter as long as your crowd was doing the countin'. But with Brand gettin' ready to check up each vote and see that it went to the man it was cast for, well, somethin' had to be done. So you hit upon this scheme to grab everything in sight, and starve us out of the country at the same time. It's been done before."

CHAPTER XXII
BUILDING THE DAM

Old Ironsides' son moved about the town giving his commands with a new dignity that was subtly reminiscent of his father. Romero was pushed aside; he took his orders from Esteban.

The boy had, in truth, become the leader of his people.

That evening, an hour before sunset, they were to strike.

In orderly precision they moved on the Double A wire. When they were within a mile of it, they spread out fanwise to attack it from the west and south.

Guns were ready, the will to do or die in their hearts; but not a shot was fired.

The fence was unguarded.

A quick use of nippers, and the wire was down. In double file they trailed up the dry bed of the stream, their guns held ready. Twenty minutes brought them within sight of the dead trees that marked the confluence of the Webster and the Rebel. They stopped.

Horses were left behind, here. In Indian fashion they swarmed past the foot of the mesa on which Kildare had lain the night the water was diverted.

Esteban posted his lookouts. Poles and shovels took the place of guns. With muscles primed for their task, and a will to fire them on, they attacked the barrier that had impeded them.

CHAPTER XXIII
THE CHATTLE RYLLERS

With the slow advance of the freight train driven by the slower moving Wash the destiny of Paradise Valley was indubitably linked. Cash had the road in shape. Where Martin Canon narrowed, a cable had been strung from bank to bank. The actual building of the dam only awaited the arrival of Wash and his precious load of dynamite.

By means of a flume, the creek had been diverted around the dam. So, in complete safety, far from prying eyes, the structure took form.

In a night in the shoulder of one of the Timbered Buttes Buck and Shorpy and Gloomy were busily engaged in a work that was nothing short of art. The good grass in the buttes lured the cattle there. As Cash had said, the steers were ready for the market. This interesting fact had been preceded by the astute Buck some time back. He was now taking advantage of it to his own particular profit.

One of his first acts on taking over the Webster ranch was to register his brand: a circle W, with arrow. Back of his choosing this particular brand was concentration of a high order, as will be observed.

Running as many cattle as they did, the Double A branding was not always carefully done. Therefore about every fifth steer carried no Double A mark whatsoever, or even upside down.

But stop to contemplate the meta-morphosis that took place when one of the upside down brands was retouched. A circle brand around the inverted letters made them look entirely different. The deft placing of the arrow in a new fashion left no trace of Acklin's ownership.

"What a sucker Acklin is," Bodine chuckled, as he burned his points into the sporting steer on which he knuckled. Shorpy and Gloomy loosened their reins. Buck knuckled the steers in the ribs, and it dashed down the arroyo. Three miles to the north of them Disaster Peak raised its rocky head. On its flat surface, a field-glass to his eyes, lay Kildare.

For sixteen days Melody and he had roamed the Buttes.

Glasses to his eyes, Blaze resumed his sweeping inspection.

He again caught a hint of smoke to the south. A second—and it was gone. But as he watched, a tiny black cloud rose into the sky and hung pendant. He handed the glasses to Melody as another patch of smoke went up.

"Somebody stamplin' a fire out down there," Melody muttered as he looked.

Kildare was putting his saddle on his horse.

"They are better than an hour ahead of us. It'll be black night in the canons in two hours. We got to be in the open before then. It's just a chance; let's pound leather!"

Married Life Statistics Show Gloom Throwers Are Barking Up Wrong Tree

BY JOSEPHINE VAN DE GRIFT
New York.—It looks as though Dr. Katharine Bement Davis and her little packet of figures were going to create an awful havoc in the camps of the gloom throwers.

Just about the time that the movie folks and the current novelists and divorce reformers had convinced us that everybody was mated up wrong and every married woman was languishing after some other woman's husband, what does Dr. Davis do?

Why, as general secretary of the Bureau of Social Hygiene here, she takes her pen in hand and writes to a thousand different married women to ask them what they themselves think about it! And 572 women of the thousand wrote back that they're perfectly happy and wouldn't change their Johns and Lesters and Corneluses for anybody else in the world.

And the second blow fell when it was discovered that 70 per cent of the women who replied were college graduates, intellectuals who can solve quadratic equations and who ordinarily aren't supposed to be able to get along with anybody. In fact—

"The figures prove conclusively that college women make the happiest marriages," says Dr. Davis.

"The reason is obvious. Three things go to make up married happiness: his conception of happiness, her conception of happiness and the way their two conceptions fit together.

"The college woman has been trained to look at things in their proper perspective. If her husband insists on having ham and eggs for breakfast when she's always had oatmeal, she's not going to wear out her nerves and wreck her married life trying to make an oatmeal addict out of him.

"Moreover the college woman has a variety of interests. When annoyances arise in the home as they are bound to do, she can turn to her other interests and the annoyance does not seem nearly so acute."

While Dr. Davis does not recommend trial marriages or other violent amendments to the existing custom, she does suggest that it would be a good thing if engaged couples were compelled to breakfast together for a number of mornings before entering definitely into matrimony.

Dr. Davis is now collecting data through a questionnaire concerning the sex life of unmarried women. Of the first 500 who have submitted answers to the questionnaire, 272, she states, have admitted that they are happy, another blow to the Freudians. Thirty-seven of the 500 said they were fairly happy; 32 declared they were definitely unhappy; 19 answered they were neither, and 33 failed to commit themselves.

The figures show that the largest number of women who reported themselves as happy, had married between the ages of 25 and 29. There was twice as much unhappiness as happiness in the group that married between 15 and 19.

Two is the number of children found in most of the happy families, according to the figures.

Coeds Kick On College Rule Against Marrying

Syracuse, N. Y.—Cupid has been ousted from college. With him go all Syracuse University undergraduates who marry.

It's the dictate of Chancellor Charles W. Flint.

"Marriage," he says, "will automatically cancel a student's enrollment and all of his—or her—connections with the university."

The order is received with a shrug of the shoulder and a knowing smile by the students who ask:

"Why follow a professor's advice on love?"

"We'll do as our heart—not our chancellor—dictates."

Few take the order seriously, although the chancellor says the new regulation will be rigidly enforced, and that no exceptions will be made to the rule.

"Marriage," says Miss Winona English of Rochester, N. Y., a senior at the university and one of the most popular students on the campus, "is a pretty big thing to regulate by mandate."

"An order prohibiting students from marrying while they are in college will only work to increase the number of secret marriages. Regulation will foster deception on the part of those who wish to marry, and will not bring about the desired results of decreasing marriages and improving scholarship."

Most of the other students hold similar views.

"It's an infringement upon the personal liberties of a person," says Miss Margaret "Peggy" Davis of Seneca Falls, a senior, "and it's prominent in dramatics. 'To dictate when he or she shall become married either in college or not. I know that I shall not get married during the next year, but yet I don't like to feel that I must remain unmarried because of a college official's orders."

Miss Frances Proctor of North Post, Long Island, sophomore in business, is just as emphatic.

"Love," she says, "cannot be controlled by rules and regulations. Girls and boys are just bound to get married when the time comes, order or no order."

"They will have to settle in their own minds whether they care about getting married more than they do about attending Syracuse University, and—love usually wins."

When Miss Virginia Walker of Cedarville, N. J., a student in the Fine Arts Department, was asked for her views she exclaimed:

"I feel just as though I were going to be expelled from college."

She refused to admit whether she was married, engaged, or about to be.

"Students," she said, "are going to marry if they want to. They just can't help it."

"Marriage is bigger" than regulation, perhaps Chancellor Flint is right in trying to prevent hasty marriages, but I don't believe he can control such things by "written orders."

Miss Helen Crockett of Oneida, N. Y., a junior in the College of Home Economics and one of the editors of "The Daily Orange," student newspaper, is of the same mind.

"College students," she says, "are just as human as other groups in society. When they want to get married, they aren't going to consider a regulation ordering them not to marry. When people, students or non-students, become serious on that question, there is only one thing, that they are going to do—marry."

Suspenders Coming Back

Someone is trying hard to pull all the snap out of the elastic by asserting that suspenders are coming back. This time it is the chairman of the style committee of the National Association of Merchant Tailors, who declares that this year men will find suspenders absolutely necessary. He says that trousers will be free cut, have plain bottoms, hang long and straight and be higher at the waist to give height. And so he claims that the upward tendency of the waistline will force men to go back to suspenders.

Appleton is not in suspense over suspenders. Men here take the matter philosophically and go on buying good looking belts instead of calottes.

According to good authority this year will see coats looser and more conservative. Sack coats will be principally single-breasted and will have three buttons and soft tailored fronts. Overcoats will be shaped at the waistline and have broad shoulders and wide lapels and collars.

TESTED RECIPES

VEAL BIRDS

By Bertha E. Shapleigh

This is an old recipe, but a good one, and offers a change.

Cut two very thin slices from a leg of veal into pieces four inches long and three inches wide. Put bones and fat on to cook with a cup or two of water. Run one cup of lean trimmings and fat salt pork through a meat chopper. Add one half cup of soft bread crumbs, two tablespoons of melted butter, one half teaspoon paprika, one-eighth teaspoon few drops of onion juice and one egg slightly beaten.

Spread this mixture on the pieces of veal, roll and fasten with toothpicks. Season each roll with salt and pepper, roll in flour and saute in butter until a golden brown. Place them in a stew pan add one cup of thin cream and one cup of stock. Cover closely and cook very slowly for 30 minutes.

Serve each bird on a piece of toast and pour over it a little of the cream remaining in the pan. Or arrange the birds on a platter and garnish with buttered peas and carrots, arranged in alternate piles around the birds.

NOTE: These birds may be cooked in cream or stock in a casserole for the 30 minutes.

NO TROUBLE TO REMOVE BLACKHEADS

BY MME. HELENE RUBINSTEIN

(Copyright, 1923, NEA Service, Inc.)

In every country where I am called upon to help women solve the riddle of good looks, I come across different skin conditions, but there is one trouble that persists seemingly in spite of all varieties of climate and conditions. I refer to blackheads.

Nine out of every ten women are vexed by these horrid little "black pests" as the French call them that not only make the skin dull and muddy looking but often lead to the dreaded pimples and spots called acne.

A blackhead is a tiny dust particle that embeds itself in the skin, held there by the natural secretion of the skin. The pores unable to rid themselves of these irritants send out a call for help to the little juice-secreting glands which respond by rushing their moisture to the affected parts. If the pores are still unable to dislodge the impure dust particles the secretions overflow onto the skin's surface and all the while the pores are stretching and losing their power to close.

That is why we seldom see blackheads without "shine" and enlarged pores.

The chief thing to be considered is how to purify the skin, reduce the pores to normal and regulate the secretions.

The opening and closing of the pores properly is the keynote of correction. To eradicate blackheads you must penetrate inside the pore where the black speck has made it self at home and as the blackhead becomes smaller and weaker through treatment close the pore so that no fresh invasion can upset the skin.

Strong soaps are injurious because they dry the surface, thus causing wrinkles and lines without reaching the inner cells. I advise a special wash of gritty texture for the trick sluggish skin and a softer paste of finely cleansing strength for the thinner and more delicate skin. When the skin is thus cleansed, any preparation which follows will be unhampered in its action.

In the daytime use an astringent after washing and use this at intervals during the day in preference to both water and cleansing cream. At night after washing and before putting on an astringent put a small quantity of stimulating nourishing cream on cotton that has been soaked in hot water and wrung dry. Then rub the skin with this until your face flushes. This will help you immeasurably as nothing overcomes blackheads as increased functioning of a skin that has become sluggish owing to their presence.

AN INTIMATE STORY OF INNERMOST EMOTIONS REVEALED IN PRIVATE LETTERS

CONTINUATION OF LETTER FROM LESLIE PRESCOTT TO THE GAY LITTLE MARQUISE:

Jack began to get quiet as I asked him to turn the roadster into the street our apartment is on. You know, dear little Marquise, it is one of the most fashionable in the city.

I said, "What is the matter?" At first he answered nothing but after I had questioned him two or three times he replied in a businesslike tone, "I hope, Leslie, you haven't paid too much for the apartment."

Perhaps it was the consciousness of knowing that I had paid too much for it that made me angry at his tone. You must know, my little Marquise, I have a quick temper.

In a tone as cold as his I said, "You put yourself out of the critical class, Jack, when you would not let me consult you in any way."

"I knew that you would want to live only in a good part of the city. I knew you would want to have plenty of air. I knew that you would want me to have some of the niceties to which I was accustomed."

"If you had seen the places that were shown me when I was looking for an apartment, you would be perfectly satisfied with this one whatever I paid for it."

"It isn't a question, my dear girl, of what you paid for it. It is a question of what we can afford. Perhaps it would have been better to have boarded a while."

At this inauspicious moment we drove up to the curb of the apartment house, which is very imposing. I saw Jack look over in disapproval. I wonder if he would have disapproved of a tenement?

We walked in, were met by an obsequious office attendant and were taken up to the apartment in a gorgeous elevator. I opened the door and turned on the switch. Even Jack had to admire it.

"Good Lord, Leslie, I never saw such magnificence," he remarked grudgingly.

"Only good taste and persistent shopping, Jack," I answered.

Notwithstanding I said this, Jack's face grew longer and longer. He didn't admire anything as Earl Whitney had. He did not make me feel as though I had done something splendid. Instead he made me feel that I had not only made a great mistake but in some way had committed almost a crime.

I didn't even dare tell him about mother giving me some more money to furnish the bedroom because when he saw the piano he said, "How much rent are you paying for that thing?"

And I answered, "I am not paying any rent. It belongs to us."

"Good Lord!" said he, "I've got it then! I had planned for his especial comfort and never noticing the smoking set and his own lamp by which he could read. He looked up at me and said very, very sternly, 'Leslie, how much have you gone into debt?'"

"I don't owe a dollar," I said.

"How much of the money your mother gave us have you spent?"

"I have spent every cent that mother gave me."

"I thought I told you that I wanted

Household Suggestions

GARNISHES

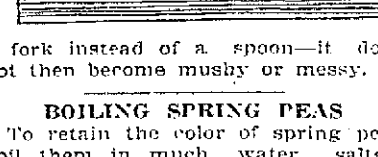

Use garnishes frequently to make your meat and vegetable dishes more attractive. Parsley, cress, shredded lettuce, radishes or any number of vegetables may be used for this.

BOILING MILK

Always boil milk or make porridge in a double boiler.

MIXING SALAD

Mix chicken or waldorf salad with

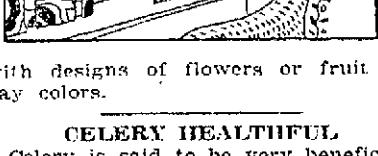

BOILING SPRING PEAS

To retain the color of spring peas, boil them in much water, salted. Then, when cooked, rinse in cold water.

COTTAGE CURTAINS

For summer cottages curtains of plain cotton fabrics are decorated

CELERY HEALTHFUL

Celery is said to be very beneficial to those suffering with rheumatism or from nervous disorders.

BREAD KEPT FRESH

Keep your bread in a tin box, not wrapped in a cloth or in paper.

FANCY BAG

A charming bag for a bridegroom or for use at a summer garden party is one of pale pink silk with many pink organdie flowers.

Adventures Of The Twins

The Fairies Trade Off

Buskins, the apple-tree fairy, was waiting patiently.

He was waiting for the smoked glasses the Green Wizard had promised to send him. The sun hurt his eyes when he ran his funny little elevator up to the sky, so that's why he wanted the glasses.

Eye 'n' bye Nancy and Nick came along and handed him a package with the Green Wizard's compliments. "Oh, thank you," said Buskins gratefully, pulling off the string and tearing away the paper. "It's just on my way up to the sixteenth floor of the sky to hunt for Widow O'Reilly's pig that blew away in the last tornado and hasn't been seen since. Now I can look for him without hurting my eyes."

Buskins worked the handle and the apple-tree elevator began to move. "Please tell the Green Wizard that I'm ever and ever and ever so much obliged," he said again, then away he went up and up and up—and bye and bye he got very close to the sun.

Then he took the glasses out of the box and hooked them behind his ears.

Suddenly he gave a yell and clapped his hands over his eyes. "Oh, my! 'What's wrong? I'm going blind!"

And he got so dizzy he fell out of his elevator all the way down to the ground.

"Ouch!" went something—or someone under him.

Buskins jumped up. "Excuse me," he said. "Did I hurt you?"

"My fault! My fault, sir!" answered Timealing (for it was he). "I've got a pair of queer glasses that I can't see a thing through, and I don't know what I'm doing. I ordered extra-see-through glasses and got these foggy ones by mistake."

"Goodness!" cried Buskins. "I guess I have yours and you've got mine. I ordered smoked ones and got these instead." So they traded and everybody was happy.

Glass Is All The Rage Now For Tableware

If you are one of the fortunate women whose mother or grandmother had vases and bowls of rich Bohemian glass and water sets and pickle dishes of blue, red or amber glass, make a trip to your attic, dust them off and bring them down.

Without a doubt you were the one who made such a fuss about these old-fashioned things that finally mother grew ashamed to have them around too, and a few years ago they were either given to the laundress or eviled to the attic. Now they are very much in style again and those very pieces which used to so worry your aesthetic

Formerly it was only woman's dress that underwent rapid and complete revolution in fashion. Nowadays the passion for variety and beauty has extended throughout the house, even to the smallest details of our tableware, and necessities in daily use.

Particularly noticeable is the change in tableware. On many dinner tables now there is scarcely any silver to be seen and in its place is the finest of cut glass. Knife rests, salt cellars, cruet, even the plates and coffee cups are made of glass. The widest scope is thus provided for beautiful workmanship, and the luxury-loving woman can set out her table in a manner that seriously rivals the magnificence of gold plate.

There are obtainable dinner services of lovely cut crystal—what is known as "cased crystal"—colored in exquisite tones of blue and dull orange, and patterned with fruit in numerous designs. These colorings are carried right through the utensils, from the largest plate to the tiniest glass.

A large crystal bowl placed on an oval looking glass makes a charming decorative-table center.

Coffee sets are made of artistically tinted glass which resembles alabaster. They are mostly used for holding iced coffee, and can be obtained in various delicate colorings. This kind of glass is especially decorative for toilet purposes, and makes handsome brush and comb trays, as well as pin holders, powder bowls, and other articles which a long while ago were only found in silver and as a consequence added much to the amount of clearing in the home.

The fashion for crystal and alabaster ware has found its way to the writing table, where pens, lamp shades, candlesticks and ink stands are all of pottery and possesses the attractive quality of being quickly and easily cleaned.

Parking Places On Card Table Covers

The woman who gives a card party these days must make provision for the parking of her guests' dainties and powder puffs.

As everyone knows who goes to card parties, each young woman brings with her to the card table her dainties, compact or "vanity," or whatever it is she carries her powder and rouge in. The result is a continual rattle of falling metal boxes that frequently disconcerts the one playing a difficult hand.

So now the newest black satin or saffron card table covers are provided with little cratonne pockets at the corners. These furnish a charming place in which to tuck the score cards, hankies, and the ever-present compact.

RECIPES

The corners of these covers are usually fastened to the corners of the table with either braid or ribbon. Something new and different are very long tassels imported from China. These come in bright colors like pea-cock, marigold or fuchsia and tend to brighten the table cover down. Besides they add a most artistic oriental touch that is very effective when a hostess gives a mahjong party.

COUE BRACELET

The new Coue bracelet has 20 crystal beads and a gold charm engraved with a decorative monogram or a conventional design.

ATTRACTIVE SLIP

Half inch bands of silver ribbon finish the pink satin underslip worn under an organdie frock of delicate blue, with pink roses appliqued on the surface.

CITY WILL EQUIP ERB PARK, MAKE CHANGES IN OTHERS

Commissioners Suggest Improvements Following Inspection Trip

Mayor Henry Reuter, City Attorney Theodore Berg and Engineer O. F. Weissgerber, who are by virtue of their office park commissioners of the board of public works, have made an inspection trip to the several parks of the city, and decided to make minor improvements and recommend larger ones. The parks visited were Pierce, Alicia, City, Erb and Jones, besides the triangle on Prospect.

For the first time, Erb park will be put into shape partly for public use. A baseball diamond will be made for the use of the north end residents, according to the decision of the commissioners. They will also recommend to the board of public works that tables and benches be provided for the benefit of picnicers.

ALICIA NEEDS CHANGES
Among the improvements in Alicia park will be painting and the provision of a stove. Purchase of the incinerator which has been in use for burning of garbage at the park on approval was agreed upon. The flag pole in Pierce park will be painted and more flowers will be planted in the triangle at Prospect. The caretaker of Pierce park will begin work Monday morning.

Glaring evidences of depredation and vandalism were noticed in Jones park. Park furniture had been tipped over, seats were found destroyed, and the door panels of the shanty were ruined. One of the electric lights was also broken.

Following are the improvements to be recommended by the park commissioners to the city council:
Pierce park—Have flag pole repainted.

CHANGE HYDRANTS
Jones park—Remove hydrant and relocate it near northwest corner of baseball field; provide additional hydrant near southwest corner for flooding of ice rinks in winter; provide new wire netting for backstop for baseball field; provide new wire netting on backstop for tennis court.

Alicia park—Level several low places; paint all benches and tables; paint small kitchen building, barn and parts of log cabin; purchase a used stove for use in kitchen on grounds; repair present lights; build two small fireplaces on edge of river bank for local picnics; replace cellar stairway in log cabin; give George Merkel, caretaker, use of log cabin for living quarters, together with light, telephone and fuel, as compensation for services; exchange present incinerator for a more modern type to cost not more than $60.

BUILDING PERMITS

One-third of a million dollars in building operations is involved in the work authorized to date by the engineering office. The mark of $333,214 was reached Saturday noon. Four permits were issued for work valued at $5,210. They are as follows:

C. C. Jennerjahn, Spencer-st. barn.
Karl Wedeward, 1221 Lawrence-st. garage.
C. Miller, 1055 College-ave, billboard.
Theodore Albright, Pine-st, frame 1-story 6-room house.

FINDS HIGHWAY 47 IN BAD CONDITION FOR CARS

There are several places on state trunk highway No. 47 where automobiles are becoming mired, according to Joseph Bayer, who was at Arlington Saturday to attend the funeral of a relative. One of these is a sink-hole where the road passes through Menominee Indian reservation. Cars sink in up to the hubs and must be towed to solid ground, he said. More attention should be given this highway by the state, Mr. Bayer says, because of the large amount of traffic. The road is excellent until the auto leaves Outagamie.

100 H. S. STUDENTS TO VISIT REFORMATORY

More than 100 students in the democracy classes of Appleton high school will leave the school building at 8 o'clock Tuesday morning to make an inspection trip to the Green Bay reformatory. The trip will be made by automobile and the inspection will be under the direction of Oscar Lee, superintendent of the institution.

TWO PAY FINES OF $10 EACH FOR DRUNKENNESS

Two men faced Judge A. M. Spencer in municipal court Monday morning with that "morning after" expression. They were arrested Saturday evening for drunkenness. John Hodgkin, whose home is in Chicago but who is employed in Appleton, was arrested on North by Captain Patrick Vaughn and Officer Albert Detgen, and Henry Schaffelke, Grand Chute, was taken in custody at Union and Commercial streets by Patrolmen John Rankin and Officer Detgen. After each took a pledge to abstain forever from use of the fiery liquor, they were fined $10 and cost.

GREEN BAY BLANKS MARINETTE, 2 TO 0

Smithson Hurls No Hit Game In Opener Of State League At Twin Cities

Marinette—Green Bay blanked Marinette-Menominee in the opening game of the Wisconsin state league Sunday afternoon when the Twins were held down 2 to 0, with Smithson of Green Bay, pitching a no-hit game.

Green Bay scored in the first and fifth stanzas. Only four of the Twins reached first base and Smithson had a perfect game until the eighth when he erred. Glick did the backstopping for the Bays.

V. Schultz hurled for the Twins, holding the visitors to three hits. O'Connor did the catching. There were two errors made by Green Bay and four by Marinette.

Seventeen hundred fans saw the contest.

WILL ENLARGE BUILDING FOR UNDERTAKING USE

Excavation for the addition to the rear of the former Lohman building on Appleton-st which is being converted into practically a new building by its owners, Dreitschneider Furniture company, was commenced Monday morning. The addition will be 25 by 30 feet in size and will be used for undertaking purposes. It will be constructed of brick and a heating plant will be located in the basement.

Promptness Asked Of Graves Fund Givers

Memorial day will not pass this year without flowers and flags being placed on the graves of Appleton heroes of the World war buried in France if the response to the Post-Crescent's appeal on behalf of the American Legion keeps up at its present rate.

FOUR HURT WHEN CAR STRIKES POST

Appleton motorists on Highway 15 Saturday and Sunday saw a new Hupmobile lodged on top of a broken down telephone pole on the sharp turn in the road at Van Dyne, between Oshkosh and Fond du Lac. Two Green Bay young men, a salesman with headquarters in Green Bay and a Fond du Lac man were taken to a Fond du Lac hospital after the crash. The party was driving to Green Bay early Saturday morning and lost the road a sharp turn. The car leaped off the concrete and struck the post about four feet above the ground. The post was snapped off but the car remained balanced on the stub. The machine was a total wreck.

The injured men are Louis Dorby and Emmons Muller. Green Bay: H. P. Sawyer, a salesman; Richard Watke, Fond du Lac.

Scallon To Build
Paul Scallon, superintendent of the Riverside Fiber and Paper company's pulp mill, is planning to erect a home at the corner of Locust and Front-sts, overlooking Fox River. The cost probably will exceed $15,000.

be available for grave decoration on May 30. It is possible that the hall of the fund remaining here may be available in sufficient time to improve the local burial plot also.

If you have made up your mind to give something toward the American Legion's perpetual graves fund, mail your contribution today or deposit it at the Post-Crescent office in the morning. When the fund of $200 is obtained, it will be turned over to the proper officer. One gift now will mean the decoration of graves every year for all time to come.

STANSBURG BREAKS 41 TARGETS IN ROW

Shooting in midseason form, Karl Stansburg topped all the shooters at Appleton Angling and Shooting club park Sunday afternoon when he broke 86 targets out of 100 tries. He broke 41 targets in a row and cracked 59 out of the first 60.

William Paltack broke 48 out of 75; Everett Wright cracked 41 out of 75 and G. L. Chamberlain hit 39 in 75 tries.

Wright's performance was excellent, considering that it was his first visit to the park this year and he was shooting with a new gun.

Several shooters tried their skill on Saturday with satisfactory results.

W. G. Commentz, 49 out of 75; William Polatick, 33 out of 50; Dr. J. A. Holmes, 18 out of 25; H. C. Getchow, 15 out of 25.

Mail Box Hit
A mail box at the southwest corner run into by a Ford automobile Saturday night cutting off the iron post close to the sidewalk. The car was badly damaged and the headlights were put out of commission. Spectators could not make out the license number of the car.

MURDER VICTIM?

Attorney Warren J. Lincoln of Aurora, Ill., believed to have been slain. A trail of blood-soaked papers and a blood-bespattered Indian club are the only clues police have to work on. Lincoln was a distant relative to President Abraham Lincoln.
